

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at <http://books.google.com/>

THE SUCCESSOR

A Novel

By RICHARD PRYCE

Copyright in the U. S., and to be Ready in August from DUFFIELD & COMPANY

"An exceedingly interesting story; his characters are clearly and incisively drawn, and his dialogue is both witty and pointed. And to a novel possessing such qualities it would be strange indeed were the public to refuse the hearty welcome which it thoroughly deserves."—Daily Telegraph.

"It is the risk of exposure which keeps you on tenterhooks throughout, and adds a zest to the clever interest of the story. Gundred is a charming girl."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"Not many living novelists have so much of the true spirit of comedy as Mr. Richard Pryce. His latest tale, 'The Successor,' has a double portion of that spirit. The characters are well imagined and deftly individual."—Morning Post.

"The author of this clever and powerful novel has more than once given evidence of a peculiar faculty of holding the reader's interest. There is nothing common-place either in the book's idea or in its execution, and the story should be read with a hearty interest by everyone who begins it."—Scotsman.

"As was to be expected from the author, the characterization is crisp and decisive, the dialogue invariably apposite, and the narrative clear, strenuous, and admirable at once for its persuasive humor and the realistic vigour of its descriptive passages."—Glasgow Herald.

"A powerfully-written story. The author has treated a risky subject in a very skilful manner."—Nottingham Guardian.

"A vigorously-written, well-worked-out, and interesting story. In his descriptions of the various characters Mr. Pryce is subtle, artistic, and graphic in his touches; and he does not waste his strength on padding, but works out his singularly clever tale in a straightforward and powerful manner."—Aberdeen Free Press.

"The plot is original and distinctly ingenious."—Onlooker.

"Amongst contemporary novelists Mr. Pryce need fear no rivals, and in 'The Successor' he has excelled himself, and given us a novel which will make its mark."—Sheffield Telegraph.

Illustrated with color plates from paintings by H. M. BROCK

A STIRRING realistic tale of love, war, and politics, in which the scene is laid in England at the latter end of the nineteenth century. # The American Crisis Biographies

The reviewers universally concede that no more important biographies have been published recently than these. In confirmation, read what is said about them :

Frederick Douglass

By BOOKER T. WASHINGTON

Author of "Up from Slavery," etc. 12mo, cloth, with frontispiece of Douglass. $1.25 net.

"From every point of view it is an excellent piece of work. It is remarkable because it gives with great frankness, great impartiality, and entire absence of bitterness of spirit, the views of both men respecting slavery, reconstruction, the political rights and duties of the Negro, and the relations between the races."

—The Outlook.

"The early chapters especially, wherein the longings, ambitions, disappointments and mental and physical sufferings of the slave boy are recounted, could have been done so feelingly by no other pen than that of Booker T. Washington."

—The Chicago Record-Herald.

The first biography of a man who was noted first for his brilliant oratory when a member of the United States Senate, later achieved success as Secretary of State of the Confederacy during the Civil War, and finally gained remarkable distinction at the bar of England, where he rose to the high position of Queen's Counsellor.

"It is still not unusual to refer to Judah P. Benjamin as the most distinguished example of the Jews in American Politics, who won their reputation solely through their intellectual resources. His race have produced men of better moral fibre in the United States, but probably none more clever in our law and statecraft."—The Evening Bulletin.

THE GATES OF KAMT

By BARONESS ORCZY

Author of "The Scarlet Pimpernel," "The Emperor's Candlesticks," etc.

Illustrated

Hugh Tankerville, an Egyptologist, endeavored for years to prove that the ancient race of Egyptians, the builders of the Pyramids and the great temples, did not die out, or lose their identity by being absorbed in the races which later inhabited Egypt. The story of Hugh Tankerville's adventures in this strange land will hold the reader by the very audacity of the plot, and the luxuriance and power of description.

"It is a most entertaining and convincing story, founded upon a unique theme."—Phila. Item.

NOTES IN SEASON.

THE BURROWS BROTHERS COMPANY have just ready the third volume of Dr. Elroy McKendree Avery's "History of the United States and its People." This volume covers the period between active colonization and the final struggle for the conquest of New France. It is, like its predecessor, lavishly illustrated with maps, facsimiles and portraits. There are to be in all fifteen volumes in this work. The fourth is nearly ready for the printers and the fifth is far advanced.

HENRY HOLT & COMPANY announce for immediate publication an edition of Renan's "Ma Soeur Henriette," with notes and vocabulary by Professor William F. Giese, of the University of Wisconsin. This beautiful sketch of Renan's devoted sister is considered the masterpiece of an author who is already recognized among the greatest of modern prose writers, and it contains none of the matter which in his better known work excited the ire of the Puritans.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. have just ready "Te Tohunga," the ancient legends and traditions of the Maoris, orally collected and pictured by W. Dittmer; "The Future of Japan," with a survey of present conditions, by William Petrie Watson; "The Dog's Medical Dictionary," an encyclopædia of their diseases, their diagnoses and treatment, by A. J. Sewell, Canine Surgeon to King Edward; also, "The Countess of Pembroke's Arcadia," by Sir Philip Sidney, with an introduction and life of the author, in their Library of Early English Novelists.

FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY will publish shortly a new book by Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, entitled "The Parables of the Kingdom," an exposition of those much debated parables in the New Testament which all begin with "the kingdom of heaven is like." They will publish in the fall a biographical volume by Ralph Connor—"The Life of James Robertson, D.D." Dr. Robertson was the inspirer, director and backer of all the sturdy "sky pilots" who went out into the Canadian Northwest, and fought for the morals of the men who were subduing the resources in the mines and forests of that new country.

THE J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY published last week Professor C. O. Jensen's "Essentials of Milk Hygiene," translated by Leonard Pearson, Dean of the Veterinary Faculty, of the University of Pennsylvania. They also issued two new titles in their Series of Select Novels, in paper binding—"Little Joan" and "Cherry's Child," both by John Strange Winter. Although John Reed Scott's latest romance, "Beatrice of Clare," was only published on June 19, the J. B. Lippincott Company have printed three editions of this novel. Two entire editions were sold in advance of publication, and a third edition was put on press even before publication.

HARPER & BROTHERS will publish shortly Justus Miles Forman's new novel, "A Stumbling Block," a brilliant story of the present day, the characters of which are American and the principal scenes are laid in New York City and in a little nearby town; "Reconstruction, Political and Economic," by Dr. William Archibald Dunning, (v. 22 of The American Nation series), a careful study of the important period following the war between the States; also, "Adventures of Uncle Sam's Sailors," by Commander Peary and Captain A. W. Wadhams, both of the U. S. N., Molly Elliot Seawell, Kirk Munro and others, the first volume of a new series entitled Stories of Adventure. They have just imported an interesting biography entitled "William Thomas Arnold, Journalist and Historian," by Mrs. Humphry Ward and C. E. Montague.

shine, health or relaxation. In this "garden by the side of the sea" pines and palms grow side by side beneath the perpetual sunshine and the moist Atlantic breezes.

Hutchinson, Alfred L. The limit of wealth. N. Y., Macmillan, 1907. c. 13+285 p. D. cl., **$1.25 net.

Purports to be a report instigated by the allied powers of Europe in the year A.D. 1942 to discover why the United States of North America so far out-ranked all other nations of the earth in power and material prosperity—its purpose being to take such steps as would advance them to the same rank as the Great American Republic. The report begins with the year 1913, when a crisis of an alarming nature occurs in the United States caused by the centralization of great wealth in a comparatively small number of the total population of the country. The remedy was found in the disintegration and distribution of the great fortunes by a committee called "The Distributors." The system of government then inaugurated is very carefully investigated in its workings from 1913 to 1942, showing that it brought happiness and prosperity to every one.

Imperial (The) gazetteer of India; The Indian empire. v. 1, Descriptive; v. 2, Historical; v. 3, Economic; v. 4, Administrative. New ed., published under the authority of His Majesty's Secretary of State for India in Council. [N. Y., Oxford University Press, (Amer. Branch,)] 1907. 31+568; 260+ 36+520; 30+552 p. maps, tables, O. ea., cl., $2.

The first edition of 'The imperial gazetteer of India' was published in nine volumes in 1881. A second edition, augmented to fourteen volumes, was issued in the years 1885-7. The second edition having for some time passed out of print, it was resolved by the government of India that a new edition should be prepared in connection with the census of 1901. The changes, however, that have been introduced, both in the general scheme and in the methods of compilation, may justify its being considered as a new work rather than a new edition. The bulk will be raised from fourteen to twenty-six volumes, including a companion atlas, and the single volume of 'The Indian empire' has been expanded into four volumes, entitled, respectively, 'Descriptive,' 'Historical,' 'Economic,' and 'Administrative.'—General Preface.

Mr. Irwin with fine humor hits off the leading characteristics of the different colleges. Vassar, West Point, Princeton, Yale, and the University of Chicago, all receive their share of kindly ridicule.

"The history and the broad outlines of counterpoint offer little scope for originality, and in these matters the present work will be found not unlike its predecessors. The chief points of difference are: (a) The derivation of the rules of scholastic counterpoint from the practice of Palestrina, whose works exhibit the art of counterpoint in its perfection, rather than from a study of text-books. . . . (b) The prominence given to details commonly ignored or inadequately treated. . . . (c) The treatment of combined counterpoint."—Preface.

unreal, and finally his life is sacrificed to the deadly drug. Many fine literary criticisms and thoughts on men and things are scattered through Lucian's dreams.

A terrible arraignment of King Leopold and his officials in their treatment of the natives of the Congo Free State, who are forced to gather rubber for the king. The Belgium monarch has made a large fortune from his African enterprise, but has used the awful means of a slave trade to further his ends. The abuse of the natives by those in power is so frightful as to be almost incredible. Mr. Morel urges that duty and honor demand that the British government take a vigorous initiative in the suppression of this fearful state of things.

"The scope of the present work is perhaps made sufficiently obvious by the title-page. It is an attempt to deal with the chief topics usually discussed in books bearing the title 'Moral philosophy' or 'Ethics.' It is on a rather larger scale than the books generally described as 'Text-books' or 'Introductions,' and is occupied to some extent with difficulties and controversies which can hardly be called 'elementary.' # The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LRYPOLDT.

JULY 6, 1907.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter for advertising pages should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers and librarians depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalog," and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

MIDSUMMER COPYRIGHT DISCUSSION.

IN connection with its proposed enterprise of printing in parallel instalments two novels, the one from an American writer and the other from Max Pemberton, the English writer, the New York Herald has started a midsummer discussion of the copyright question, based on an interview with the English author. Unfortunately, Max Pemberton's utterances seem to be based on entire ignorance of the American status of the copyright question as developed in the important copyright conferences and Congressional hearings during the past two years and in the reports of the Congressional committees. He seems to think that President Roosevelt could, by a stroke of the pen, or of the "big stick," settle the matter, or that American differences could be solved by international conferences. The President's favorable attitude toward the most advanced copyright legislation is well known; but he is powerless, of course, in default of Congressional action, which he can only recommend, as he has done. International conferences are as unnecessary as, under present circumstances, they would be ineffective, for the Berne Convention provides a satisfactory basis for the union of the United States with other nations if it were not for the unfortunate attitude and power of certain labor organizations which prevent this consummation.

The Herald has continued discussion of the subject by snapshot interviews with American and English authors, some of whom have modestly expressed a hesitancy to discuss this question offhand, for instance, as one was jumping on a railway train for a vacation journey. The most important contribution is the extended interview contributed by Mr. Thring, secretary of the British Society of Authors, who recognizes the labor difficulties in our way, and makes the comparison of the bricklayers holding up the architect and compelling his conformity with their desires. Most Englishmen who are at all informed as to the condition of things in America now know that American authors and American publishers are practically a unit in desiring the fullest international recognition of literary property, and apologetically plead "non possumus."

The discussion has developed little of value except the strong editorial support on the part of so influential a journal as the New York Herald of international copyright pure and simple. The year, however, is not likely to close without important results. It is expected that the Music Roll Case will be argued before the United States Supreme Court within the year; if the Supreme Court should decide that the law already covers such copies of musical writings, Congress would be freed from the pressure on the part of the musical pirates, who would scarcely have the effrontery to ask for backward legislation; while if the Supreme Court should uphold the lower court it would probably emphasize, as the lower court has already done, the importance and necessity of protective legislation. It is probable also that previous to the opening of Congress in December next much attention will be given by the members of the Congressional committees and by friends of copyright to shaping the copyright measures so as to ensure early and favorable action at the next session.

WHEN the Senate convenes it will have before it an important outcome of the Pan-American Conference at Rio de Janeiro last year in the shape of an international convention, requiring assent from the Senate before it can become a treaty. Conventions resulting from the second Pan-American Conference, in Mexico City, had already provided for reciprocal arrangements among American countries as to copyrights and patents. The present convention goes a step further and almost reaches the ideal of international protection, in proposing two bureaus, one at Havana for the north and one at Rio de Janeiro for the south, which shall act as registration agencies, to the end that a copyright or patent taken out in any one country of the Pan-American union shall be effective throughout the several countries. This registration will effect protection in each country, as if the registration were made in such country—presumably according to the methods and extent of protection of that particular country, thus leaving international arrangements, as is only fair, to follow the course of domestic arrangements. The period of protection is to be that recognized by the laws of the country “where the rights originated or have been recognized;” or, in lack of specification, for fifteen years, with similar renewal in the case of patents, ten years, with similar renewals in the case of trade-marks, etc., and twenty-five years beyond the death of the author in the case of copyrights. When the United States is permitted to join the Berne Convention and when international bureaus can be established which will make registration in one country effective throughout all countries, the ideal of international copyright will have been nearly reached.

THE care with which a successful angler selects his flies before he throws his line for trout is instructive. Nothing that is unnatural, or that differs from things as they are, does he tolerate. Just as much care should be given by the bookseller to the lines he throws out for customers in whatever form of advertising he may adopt.

THE END OF THE CONSOLIDATED RETAIL BOOKSELLERS.

THOSE creditors of the Consolidated Retail Booksellers who may have cherished a hope that somehow something might be saved of the wreck of that concern will not take much comfort in reading the following communication:

To the Publishers' Weekly.

GENTLEMEN: I beg to advise you that Merrill E. Gates, Jr., Trustee in Bankruptcy for the Consolidated Retail Booksellers, has recently paid out to the State of New Jersey the sum of $1760 for franchise taxes levied against the above named corporation.

At a creditors' meeting recently held those who attended were advised that it might be necessary to make this payment, although the Trustee was hopeful of avoiding it. Since that time a decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case of People of the State of New Jersey against Anderson, reported in 17 American Bankruptcy Reports, page 62, has reversed the rulings of the New Jersey State Courts, and declares that such taxes were entitled to absolute priority even over the expenses of administration.

Appeal was useless; no alternative was left to the Trustee but to pay the claim.

The Trustee has not and will not have sufficient moneys with which to meet charges upon his administration for disbursements.

This letter is written to advise you that it is not possible for any dividend to be paid to the creditors of this estate, and that any claim against it is entirely worthless.

Neither the Trustee nor his attorney will receive compensation for their services, although they have made every effort to bring money into the estate.

Any further information that any creditor desires will be cheerfully given by the undersigned at his office upon request.

Yours very truly,
J. O. FOOTE.

346-348 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, June 13, 1907.

THE AFFAIRS OF THE PILGRIM PRESS.

APROPOS of the many disturbing rumors spread in regard to the affairs of the Pilgrim Press we take from the Report of the Committee of Five of the Congregational S. S. and Publishing Society the following extract: “The efficient service of our new business manager, Mr. Luther H. Cary, is made sufficiently apparent by the statement of the Business Department given at the close of this report. In one year, characterized by many disturbing conditions, a business deficit of about $5000 has been converted into a business profit of about $19,000. The limitations imposed by our small working capital will delay the quick realization of all of the business plans under consideration, but the feeling of the directors is distinctly hopeful regarding the future development of the interests under their management.”

HERBERT B. TURNER & CO. ABSORBED BY SMALL, MAYNARD & CO.

THE taking over of the Boston publishing house of Herbert B. Turner & Co. by Small, Maynard & Co., is being completed, and the business of the two firms will hereafter be conducted by Small, Maynard & Co., Mr. Turner becoming manager of the sales department.

Herbert B. Turner & Co., the younger of the two concerns, was established by Mr. Turner and Charles T. McCotter in the fall of 1902, with headquarters in the Wentworth Building, at 170 Summer Street. Later they removed to the Essex Building, at the corner of Atlantic Avenue and Essex Street. From the beginning the firm made a specialty of handsome editions of standard classics. In this line they brought out a reprint of Stevenson in thirteen volumes, and Swift's “Tale of a Tub.” In the line of fiction their most successful ventures were Snaith's “Broke of Covendon” and Marshall's “The House of Merrilees.” During the last three years they made a specialty of works on psychical research, which their successors will continue. Their most notable book last season was William Stanley Braithwaite's excellent “Book of Elizabethan Verse,” of which a new edition is now under way. All the titles on their list have been taken over by Small, Maynard & Co., who assume all liabilities.

Small, Maynard & Co. began business at No. 6 Beacon Street, Boston, in 1897, with the issue of new editions of Walt Whitman's “Leaves of Grass” and his “Complete Works,” the rights to which they acquired from the poet's literary executors. Two years later the firm was incorporated, and in the same year they took over the publications of the firm of Copeland & Day, which had been established in 1893, and the four volumes of poems by Bliss Carman formerly published by Lamson, Wolfe & Co. In 1900 Herbert Small, owing to ill health, severed his connection with the firm, the business being continued by Dr. Isaac Hull Platt, the president of the corporation; Laurens Maynard, treasurer, and Bliss Carman, as a director. Two years later, on February 15, 1902, the firm made an assignment to Norman H. White, of the Boston Bookbinding Company. The business was sold at auction in 1904 and acquired by Mr. White, who continued it under the old firm name with Laurens Maynard as manager. Last year Mr. Maynard retired and was succeeded by C. L. Stebbins. Mr. White has recently severed his connection with the concern, C. W. Lewis having acquired his interest. Small, Maynard & Co. made a "hit" with "Mr. Dooley's" first volumes, and with Lorimer's "Letters from a Self-Made Merchant to His Son." Their list is particularly strong in notable contributions to the department of belles lettres and biography. The combined lists of the two houses offer many attractions and should carry the firm well into the front rank of the publishing trade.

TOWER'S SOUTHERN SAMPLE ROOM.

THE TOWER MANUFACTURING AND NOVELTY COMPANY, under the management of J. Lewis, assisted by J. P. Chase, have opened up a Southern Sample Room for the accommodation of Southern buyers. They will be at the Windsor Hotel, Jacksonville, Fla., on July 10. Later they will be at the Aragon Hotel in Atlanta, Ga., where, in addition to Messrs. Lewis and Chase, W. W. Headrick, the central Southern representative of the Tower Manufacturing Company, will welcome his many friends.

Associated with the Tower lines this year are the following: The Baker & Taylor Company, New York, books; Giles W. Quarles Company, Baltimore, china, cut glass, etc., represented by Z. M. Williams; Koch Importing Company, Baltimore, toys, dolls, etc., represented by Julius Meyer, and Bruen-Ritchey Company, New York, druggists' sundries, represented by G. M. Jost and L. Wochter.

TORONTO BOOST CLUB ORGANIZED.

THE Toronto Boost Club has been organized at Toronto, Can., with a membership of thirty, through the efforts of Charles E. Peabody, formerly of New York City. The officers are: Arch Booster, Charles E. Peabody; Festive Booster, C. E. Haight; Glad Hand Booster, D. O. McKinnon; Scribe, William F. Ralph; Coin Keeper, Rex. Croasdel; Boost Committee, Dudley A. Landall, John B. Mill, F. J. Tobin and Harry A. Watts.

NET FICTION IN ENGLAND.

"THE agitation in favor of net fiction in England," according to the London Publisher and Bookseller, "has been short-lived. The support given to the movement was meagre, and those few publishers who have put their opinions to a practical test have not, as far as we can gather, been encouraged to extend their operations. Strangely enough, the booksellers themselves have mostly been in favor of excluding fiction from the jealously-guarded net system. They hold that the public likes, and is accustomed to, a discount on novels, and therefore nothing was to be gained by alteration. Then the library question was a formidable obstacle. Would the big libraries consent to keep their surplus stock of fiction for the time limit imposed by the net system? These and other opposing arguments have stood in the way of the general acceptance of the net principle being extended to novels."

MACMILLAN & CO. TO SEND BOOKS "ON APPROVAL" IN ENGLAND.

THE following circulars have recently been sent out by Macmillan & Co., Ltd., to the trade in England:

TO THE TRADE.

Messrs. Macmillan & Co., Ltd., beg to enclose a copy of an offer to send books "on approval" which they propose to affix to their catalogue. It not infrequently happens that a bookbuyer, especially in the country, refrains from ordering a volume which he has seen advertised or reviewed because he has no opportunity of examining it before doing so—and as the number of books increases, this difficulty is not likely to occur less frequently.

Any bookseller wishing to show a customer a book published by Macmillan & Co. which he has not in stock, can obtain a copy on approval if he mentions his wish when sending the order. A book so ordered will be credited if returned in good condition within seven days.

TO BOOKBUYERS—BOOKS ON APPROVAL.

Bookbuyers are informed that any volume published by Macmillan & Co., Ltd. (if over six shillings in price), will be sent on approval, on condition that if it is returned the cost of carriage both ways will be defrayed by the customer. In the event of the book being purchased, there will be no charge for carriage.

Applications for books on approval must not be addressed to the publishers, but to a local bookseller, through whom the transaction must take place.

THE RUSSIAN BOOKSELLERS' AND PUBLISHERS' SOCIETY.

IN Russian booksellers' circles the necessity has long been felt to bring up to date the old regulations of the Russian Booksellers' and Publishers' Society. The Knizhnyi Wjestnik, the official organ of that society, announces that a special commission has been appointed to deal with the questions. It sent a special request to all Russian booksellers to give their opinion as to the improving and completing the existing regulations and upon the efficiency of the new demands—such as the organization of booksellers' credit, an office for arbitration between publishers and booksellers as well as between employers and employed, a booksellers' school, booksellers' discounts, etc. Each question is to be treated and reported by a special member.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

THE publishers of McClure's Magazine having discovered that the much-advertised Ellen Terry autobiography, of which instalments appeared in the June and July issues of their magazine, is largely based on matter published in 1891 in The New Review, will discontinue its publication.

AN American editorial board of the Hibbert Journal, consisting of twelve well-known scholars, has just been constituted and will enter upon its duties at once. It is hoped that by the co-operation of this board with the British board, the Journal may serve to es-establish a kind of intellectual alliance between Great Britain and America in matters of the highest religious and philosophic thought.

Engineering World, for several years the only general engineering periodical west of New York, has been purchased by Myron C. Clark, and hereafter will be incorporated with Engineering-Contracting. Both are weekly papers, and their consolidation will result in a publication having but few equals in the engineering field. No less than twelve men formerly connected with other engineering publications are now on the staff of the company. Its general offices have been removed recently from New York to 355 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

The Arena for June, which ends the thirty-seventh volume of this progressive democratic review of opinion, contains a critical paper on "Modern Germany—Mad?" dealing with the present morbid and erotic wave that is sweeping over Germany, by George Sylvester Viereck; "Plant Consciousness," a delightful sketch dealing with the evidences of brain power in various plants, by Arthur Smith; "The Educational Value of a Great Exposition," by Professor Frank Webster Smith; "Why I Am a Christian Socialist," by the Rev. J. O. Bontall, Ph.D., presents the views of a brilliant young Baptist clergyman, and other articles on timely subjects. The editorial department of The Arena, which is probably the most important and popular feature of this review, is very strong and the news digests of the movements for public-ownership, direct-legislation, co-operation and proportional representation make this magazine indispensable to all persons interested in these great and growing movements.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

THE CONCORDANCE SOCIETY announce that the necessary membership of one hundred has been secured, and that the organization is ready for active work. Further membership subscriptions, (at five dollars each,) are still greatly desired, and may be made through the representative member of almost any college or university. Professor A. H. Tolman is the representative for the University of Chicago.

A MANUSCRIPT of Paul Verlaine has just come to light in Paris. In the course of his irregular life he gave it in payment of a debt to his landlord, who, however, was unable to dispose of it, as no publisher would take it. The manuscript is in prose, is entitled "Voyage en France par un Français," and displays that morbid religiosity which characterizes also Verlaine's "Sagesse." It will be published, with a preface by Louis Loviot, by A. Messein, of Paris.

ACCORDING to Otis Notman, of the New York Times Saturday Review of Books, for June 29, George Sylvester Viereck, whose poetry is attracting so much attention, is a grandson of Emperor William the Great of Germany and cousin of the present German emperor. His grandmother was Edwina Viereck, a famous German actress who sixty years ago attracted the attention of the then crown prince of Prussia, and by whom, according to Mr. Notman, she had a son, Louis Viereck. This son, the father of George Sylvester Viereck, was employed in the law department in Prussia, became a Socialist and was banished. He fled to Austria, next established a socialist paper in Munich, came to this country as delegate of the Social Democratic Party and returned again twelve years ago, when he was engaged on the New York Morgen-Journal. Recently he established the Vorkämpfer, whose avowed purpose it is to fight for the Germans in this country against nativism and all kinds of prohibitive laws which are not in accord with German custom.

THE London correspondent of the Buffalo Express writes under date of June 21: "Doctors are playing the deuce with English literature just now. The latest romancer to be 'laid off' by his physician is Maurice Hewlett, whose medical man has ordered him to suspend work on his partly completed novel of modern English life, provisionally entitled 'The Half-Way House,' and who is going away at once for a month or two. The novel consequently cannot be completed until September, although the first draft of it is now practically complete. Meanwhile, Miss Cholmondeley has been forbidden by her physician to do more than write short stories for some months to come. She must not even think for the present about a novel to succeed 'Prisoners.' May Sinclair is out of town at the moment recovering strength after a trying illness; Constance Fletcher has been away in Italy all the spring in poor health; Eden Phillpotts has only lately got back strength and spirits after a rather cheerless sojourn in the Riviera; Mrs. Frances Campbell, author of 'Dearlove,' has been ordered away from London for the early summer, and Mrs. Humphry Ward is reported to be feeling rather used up, and intending to stop work for the time as soon as she finishes the novel about to begin serially in Harper's Magazine. Concerning Mrs. Ward I can make the interesting announcement that she intends to make a visit to the United States and Canada next spring, and may gather there material for a novel to be written in the following autumn."

POST-CARD NOTES.

THE AMERICAN POST CARD PUBLISHING COMPANY, with offices at 239 Colonial Arcade, Cleveland, Ohio, has been incorporated to publish and import high grade souvenir cards. The company is officered by W. W. Heron, president, and D. M. Slocum, secretary and treasurer, both of whom have been well and favorably known in the post-card trade for several years. Among the many novelties the firm is now publishing are the "Souvenir Stickers" and the natural pressed flowers on post-cards. The latter have been a great success in Europe.

THE AMERICAN PHOTOCOLORTYPE COMPANY, 337 Dearborn Street, Chicago, have prepared a number of post-cards giving views of scenes from Arkansas—a part of America rarely referred to as a place of scenic grandeur. Yet their artist has been most happy in selecting just such bits as cotton-picking scenes, glimpses of the White River, portions of the Iron Mountain route, even of the entrances to the Zinc Mines, which show off the State to best advantage, and they are performing the same service for the rest of the country. In fact, they are picturing to the world, on post-cards, scenes that give to the beholder a clearer idea of the subject than attainable by description. The utility of this style of post-cards is just beginning to be realized by Americans—especially those who have been in Europe. In the city of Dresden they have for sale over 600 different views of Dresden and suburbs alone. It is said that in England there are already in circulation over thirty thousand different views picturing the British isles on post-cards. The larger cities of America have been fairly well represented on post-cards through the enterprise of German manufacturers. Very little creditable work has been done in America to date. Nearly all home product so far has been of the fad variety, such as comical pictures, etc.; but now there is a demand for the portrayal on post-cards of every kind of American scenery, and the American Photocolortype Company has under way a line of beautiful scenic cards, especially in photosimile (sepia tone) and phototypes (carbon effect,) of which samples will be sent to dealers on application.

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS proposes to prepare for the benefit of all interested in the "incunabula of America" title cards of the publications in the Library of Congress printed in the United States prior to 1800. About 1500 cards have already been printed for books, pamphlets and newspapers printed in America before 1801, about one-third of such publications now in the collection of the Library of Congress, and cards for the remaining portion will be issued in the course of the next five years. Full information concerning the scheme will be furnished by the Librarian of Congress.

THE BOSTON BOOK COMPANY has issued in pamphlet form "A Bibliography of Articles Relating to Holidays," originally contributed to the Bulletin of Bibliography by Robert Morrill McCurdy, of the Gardner A. Sage Library, Brunswick, N. J., revised and brought down to date by Edith Margaret Coulter, of the N. Y. State Library School. "This selected list of authorities," according to the prefatory note, "aims to include the most valuable material on legal holidays and festival days of the year; a few other days about which questions are frequently asked have been introduced for the sake of completeness." The general arrangement is by the calendar and not alphabetical. The bibliography is published as No. 17 of the Bulletin of Bibliography Pamphlets. (56 p. 12".)

THE BIBLIOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY OF AMERICA has published under date of May, 1907, the first number of the Bulletin of the Bibliographical Society of America, including a record of American Bibliography. The aim of the publication is "to set down the facts in regard to published bibliographical work and in regard to work in progress. Any serious bibliographical work undertaken in America—the term of America comprehends Canada, Mexico and the Central American and South American states as well as the United States—as well as such work relating to America undertaken abroad, is included in its scope." The Bulletin is edited by W. Dawson Johnston, T. Franklin Currier and Victor H. Paltsits, and will be sent quarterly to members of the Bibliographical Society of America.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

HENRY W. LANIER, of the firm of Doubleday, Page & Company, has gone to Nova Scotia on a fishing trip.

MICHAEL STRIEN, for thirty-four years connected with the business department of the American Baptist Publication Society, died in Philadelphia last week, aged fifty-seven.

"BUD," the novel by Neil Munro, is the same book which, under the title of "The Daft Days," has been attracting attention in England, where it was published a few weeks ago.

FREDERICK A. STOKES COMPANY will publish in October next "The Shuttle," a story of an international marriage, by Frances Hodgson Burnett, which is now running as a serial in The Century.

IN response to the many requests from Kipling lovers, Doubleday, Page & Company will issue in the early fall "From Sea to Sea" in one volume, uniform with the set of Kipling's works already published by them.

A FINE Bartolozzi color print, after the portrait of Miss Farren, by Sir Thomas Lawrence, which is now in the collection of J. Pierpont Morgan, was sold at auction in London on July 2 at the record price of $2900.

MORGAN SHEPARD & Co. have in preparation for publication in the fall two books for children—"In Peanut Land," by Eber Dean, and "Fairy Snow Shoes," by Mrs. Gabriella Stewart Mulliner, with illustrations by Harold Sichel.

THE FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY have in preparation a new book by Marshall P. Wilder, the well-known humorist. It will be entitled "Smiling Round the World," and is the outcome of a recent tour which Wilder made in foreign countries.

CASELL & COMPANY have just ready "Notable Trials—Romances of the Law Courts," by R. Story Deans; also, "A Navy from King's," a romance by Theodora Wilson-Wilson. They will bring out shortly a novel of Virginia life, by Kenneth Brown, author of "Sirocco."

Life is an exhibitor at the Salon des Artistes-Humoristes now running at the Palais de Glace in Paris. This is the first year of the exhibition, which consists of original drawings and designs from which have been made the pictures appearing in the leading humorous publications of the world.

DODD, MEAD & Co. will publish in the fall Maurice Hewlett's new story, "The Stooping Lady," which has been running as a serial in The Bookman; "The Halo," a new story by Bettina von Hutten, author of "Pam"; "The Heart of Jessie Laurie," a new story by Amelia E. Barr; also, "Passion, Poison and Petrification," by George Bernard Shaw.

Johnston; "The Life of Lincoln for Boys," by Frances C. Sparhawk, and "North Overland with Franklin," by J. MacDonald Oxley. This well-known library now contains forty-three volumes.

GEORGE ROUTLEDGE & SONS will publish early next year a new dictionary of Dickens. The work is being compiled by A. J. Philip, and will contain the whole of the characters and the scenes of the novels and miscellaneous works arranged in alphabetical order. Howard," Professor Woodberry's "Appreciation of Literature," "The Challenge of the Cities," a sociological work by Dr. Josiah Strong, and "The Man of Sark," a romance of the Channel Islands, by John Oxenham, author of "The Open Road," recently published by the Macmillans.

"OLD FASHIONED FOLK," by F. Hopkinson Smith, is a small volume, privately printed, which gives an address made last February before the Harvard Union. It is a plea for the wholesome simple life of an earlier period of our history, and is made with something more than the usual charm of style that we expect from its author. Copies may be had from R. E. Lee, 212 Summer Street, Boston.

D. APPLETON & Co. have in preparation a biography of Wilhelmine, Margravine of Bai-reuth, the clever sister of Frederick the Great, well known through her autobiography; "Who Killed Lady Poynder?," a new novel by Richard Marsh; also, a handsome gift book devoted to the life of "Mary Queen of Scots," by Walter Wood, illustrated with pictures in color by James Orrock and Sir James Linton.

Hegan Rice; "Abbie Ann," by the author of the "Emmy Lou" stories, George Madden Martin; also, "Father and Baby," by Emilie Poulsou.

DURING the month of August there will appear simultaneously a historical novel, and a magazine article in which the same writer describes conditions of Mexico past and present. Eugene P. Lyle, Jr., is the author in question. His book, "The Lone Star," will be published by Doubleday, Page & Company the first of August. In it Mr. Lyle gives a dramatic picture of Santa Ana and his colleagues, and of the men who pinned the Stars and Stripes to Texas's flag staff. The article will appear in The World's Work for that month, and is called "Mexico at High Tide." The remarkable progress of a wonderfully rich country being developed largely by American capital is told by Mr. Lyle, and while not fiction is no less interesting than his story of Mexico as it was in the early thirties.

HEREAFTER the book publications of The Open Court Publishing Company will be carried in stock by the Baker & Taylor Company as Eastern representatives, and will be supplied to the trade on more favorable terms and at less expense than under previous arrangements. The Open Court Publishing Company calls special attention to the following of their books recently published: "Plant Breeding—Comments on the experiments of Nilsson and Burbank," by Hugo De Vries; "Chinese Thought," an exposition of the main characteristic feature of the Chinese world conception; "Chinese Life and Customs," "The Rise of Man," a sketch of the origin of the human race, and "The Story of Sampson" and its place in the religious development of mankind, four books by Dr. Paul Carus.

LOTHROP, LEE & SHEPARD have in preparation "The Kenton Pines, or, Raymond Benson at College," by Clarence B. Burleigh, with illustrations by L. J. Bridgman, a charming description of life at Bowdoin College in the eighties, which completes the Raymond Benson Series; "The Great Year," by A. T. Dudley, a story of college sports at Exeter, with illustrations by Charles Copeland, forming the fifth volume of the Phillips-Exeter Series; "Four Boys in the Land of Cotton," by Everett T. Hazlitt; "The Harbours of England" and "Poems," by John Ruskin; and "Lucretius on the Nature of Things," (De Rerum Natura,) translated, with an analysis of the Six Books, by H. A. J. Munro; to the London Library: "Beowulf," translated into modern English prose by Wentworth Huyshe; and to the library of Wayfaring Books: "The Pocket Plato," edited, from the translation of Jowett, by arrangement with Balliol College and the Clarendon Press, by S. C. Woodhouse; "The Voice of the Sea," edited by Ingram Swale; "The Shepherd's Song," the Twenty-third Psalm illustrated and explained, by Faddoul Moghabchab; and "Lonewood Corner, a Countryman's Horizons," by John Halsham, author of "Idlehurst."

HURST & Co.'s 1907 trade and order list is larger and more attractive than ever. Under fifty-seven headings they record well over twenty-five hundred titles in every department of literature for old and young people. Special attention is directed to two new lines, well printed on large-sized paper, making attractive volumes, named Every Boys' Library and Every Girls' Library; to their New Padded Poets; Berkley Poets in cloth and leather; New Canterbury Poets; Premier Padded Poets; Log Cabin to White House Series; Oliver Optic Series; Harry Castlemon Series; J. T. Trowbridge Series; C. A. Stephens Series; Little Prudy Books; Archibald Claverling Gunter works; Knickerbocker Classics; Boys' Own Library; Girls' Own Library; Poetical Classics, and Premier Padded Classics. To each of the older lines many new titles have been added and all have been dressed up new—in short, every line has been improved throughout. In making up orders for the holidays Hurst's list should not be overlooked.

HENRY HOLT & Co. have in preparation "Harps Hung Up in Babylon," a volume of poems most of which have appeared in our best magazines, by Arthur Colton, so far best known for whimsical tales like "The Belted Seas;" "A Hundred Great Poems," compiled by Richard James Cross, favorably known for his translations from Dante; a popular work on "The Greater English Poets of the Nineteenth Century," by W. M. Payne, associate editor of The Dial; the initial volume of the series of Leading Americans, "Leading American Soldiers," by R. M. Johnston, whose quality in this field may be inferred from his short "Life of Napoleon;" a fourth volume, (July, 1778-May, 1792,) of Dexter's notable "Biographical Sketches of Graduates of Yale College;" "American Trees," by Nathaniel Lord Britton, director of the New York Botanical Garden and author of "A Manual of the Flora of the Northern States and Canada;" "Darwinism To-Day," by Professor Vernon L. Kellogg, author of "American Insects;" "Wage-Earners' Budgets," a study of standards and cost of living in New York City, by Mrs. Louise B. More; Professor Earle W. Dow's "Historical Atlas;" also, a 1908 edition of Lester & Knowles's "Cheerful Year-Book."

BREWER, BARSE & Co., a new publishing firm that has just hung out its shingle at No. 300 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, starts out with the following announcements: "Billy Whiskers, Jr., and His Chums," "Billy Whisker's Friends," and "Santa Claus' Twin Brothers," three new books for young people, by Frances Trego Montgomery, with illustrations in colors and black and white by Hugo von Hofsten; also, "The Rainy Day Series," six famous classics for children, including "Black Beauty," "Adventures of a Brownie," "Child's Garden of Verse," "Night Before Christmas," "Little Lame Prince," and Dickens's "Christmas Carol," printed in large, clear type, with six full-page colored illustrations and attractively bound. For older readers they have four books on entertainments compiled by Paul Pierce—"Dinners and Luncheons," "Suppers," "Breakfasts and Teas," and "Parties and Entertainments"—each one full of hints and new ideas for those desiring something to replace the old worn-out ideas, carefully prepared by the editor of What to Eat. These are appropriately supplemented by a volume of "Toasts and After-Dinner Stories," really two books in one, and "Plays and Players," a theatre-goer's record, a handy book in which to preserve theatre programmes and a record of plays seen, the date, play, theatre, in whose company, coupon of seat, comment on the play and players, portraits of actors, etc.

DUFFIELD & Co. will publish in August a new novel by Richard Pryce, called "The Successor." The story, which has already gone through five editions in England, treats of a somewhat risky but striking theme, involving the production of an heir to a great English estate, and is said to be handled in the spirit of George Meredith and the comedy of manners. Mr. Pryce is a grandson of the second Lord Castlemaine, and thoroughly understands English high life, of which he writes convincingly and with humor. They have purchased from Small, Maynard & Co. the late Richard Hovey's books, "Along the Trail," "The Birth of Galahad," "The Marriage of Guenevere," "The Quest of Merlin" and "Talesin." In addition to these dramas Messrs. Duffield will bring out shortly "The Holy Grail, and Other Fragments," with an introduction and notes by Mrs. Hovey and a preface by Bliss Carman. The volume will contain Mr. Hovey's outline, never before published, of the entire nine volumes of the Launcelot and Guenevere Series as he had projected it; also certain perfected parts of the unfinished plays. This work, long advertised as in preparation, will help the reader to answer many of the questions in his mind after reading the four completed volumes of the series "Launcelot and Guenevere: a Poem in Drama." Several other posthumous volumes by Mr. Hovey, including a new book of lyrical verse, are said to be in prospect. They have just brought out "The Canticle of the Sun of St. Francis of Assisi" in a booklet that forms the first volume in their projected Rubric Series. Webster defines rubric (from ruber-red) as "that part of any work in the early manuscripts and typography which was colored red, to distinguish it from other portions. Hence that which is established or settled, as by authority." The little volumes of the Rubric Series are planned to give to readers in attractive and handy form various good things that are "established or settled by authority." Especially the design is to include things which are unget-at-able—things which "everybody ought to know" but usually can't lay hands on. Each volume is printed in two colors, with appropriate marginal decorations especially made for it, and bound in a shapely format.

Why We Get the Business!

HURST & CO. don't waste time explaining why they are doing a tremendous business while their competitors complain of a "dull" season—they are just doing it.

HURST & CO. know that the trade—large and small alike—have been quick to recognize the good things on our 1907 lists. Dealers don't want books to keep; they want them to sell. We make them to sell, too.

HURST & CO. first make their books right, then sell them right. Result: dealers everywhere unhesitatingly pronounce them Best in Value, Quickest to Sell, and Lowest in Price.

HURST & CO. want all dealers not yet familiar with their goods to send immediately for their latest order list. We want everybody handling books to get one and see for themselves what we have to offer.

HURST & CO. positively assert—lists of titles, designs and workmanship carefully considered—that their prices are lower than any other publisher in the business, and that they carry a complete stock at all times.

Aro You in Line?

If not, procure our lists and prices at once. We send them for the asking.

SEND for Circular No. 98, showing styles of work offered at above prices. Proofs submitted for correction or approval before orders are completed. Compare our work with post cards made anywhere in the world. Hundreds of views now on hand of scenes along routes of transportation lines by land and rail. Assuredly there are no greater spenders of money or better judges of pictorial advertising than railroad and steamship companies. Photography and reproduction must be first-class to suit them. This is a specialty with us. We have the workmen and facilities for making the kind of post cards that will always sell at top prices to the American public.

American Post Cards are standard United States Government size 3 1/2 x 5 1/2 inches, picture covering one side entirely. Views shown in this advertisement are only portions of cards.

AMERICAN-POSTCARDS-CHICAGO

TRADE MARK

TRANSPORTATION COMPANIES are assured of wider circulation and permanent preservation of their advertising matter in the scenes on or reached by their lines are made the reverse side of American Postcards. The sender and the public will use them.

TRAVEL MANAGERS AND PASSENGER AGENTS OF TRANSPORTATION by every means by land and water are reporting with us to an unprecedented extent in sending before the citizens of America and the people of the whole civilized world the scenic grandeur of the Western Hemisphere. We have under way already, through the operation of more than two hundred transportation lines, many hundreds of views which picture scenes never before seen except a very limited number of even native Americans. These postcards, collected and preserved by us, form a priceless scenic glossary of God's handiwork such as has never been at the service of the human eye upon the universe.

INDUSTRIAL AND EMIGRANT AGENTS are specially interested in the circulation of American Postcards. Almost every emigrant that lands in America will purchase, write upon, pay postage and send back to the country from which he came. American Postcards representing American views of industrial operations in and out of doors are especially effective in bringing new workers to America. This is equally true relative to the movement of American agents from place to place where new opportunities are arising for investment and industry of every kind.

ILLUSTRATED PRINTED MATTER now in use for advertising purposes should be forwarded to us. We will review it and suggest what scenes would make attractive postcards and the practical way for the advertiser to put them into circulation.

SETS OF PHOTOGRAPHS ten in number, or multiples of ten are always desirable, uniform in size. Where this is impossible, send 6 of one size and 4 of another size to make up each set of 10 views. This notation refers to scenes along any particular transportation line or views in or around any particular locality.

COMMERCIAL CLUBS, HOME TRADE LEAGUES, ADVANCEMENT, IMPROVEMENT AND BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATIONS comprehend the incalculable value of American Postcards in disseminating demonstrations of the civic and commercial progress made and under way in numberless cities where enterprising men are organized for progress. Public buildings, parks, monuments, lakes, rivers, street scenes, private buildings, factories (interior and exterior), mines, quarries, agricultural and horticultural pursuits, lumber industries, fruit growing, stock raising and almost every conceivable form of human activity in and out of doors is being pictured through reproduction on American Postcards for distribution throughout the world. The citizens collectively of each community represented will bear the burden of advertising their home town and surrounding territory by individually buying or otherwise procuring, writing or printing upon the front half of the postcards, paying postage and sending out these incomparable upbuilders of traffic and industry. The recipient in the East marvels at the pictures of the West. The resident among magnolias and orange blossoms is enthralled by the scenes conveyed to him by American Postcards depicting far away Alaska. From the vineyards and flower gardens of that terrestrial paradise named by Cortes come American Postcards bearing enchanting reproductions in colors realistic of that dreamland of gold, glorious climate and achievements that offer to the pleasure seeker a continuous season of joy; to the weary money changers from the Eastern marts that haven of rest and recuperative change they need. Alike come American Postcards from the temperate zones of North America bearing pictures inviting the denizens of tropical climes to bide them from burning sun to the cool Atlantic shores where landed the early Pilgrims, and to the land of Hendrik Hudson, there to wander and wonder among the haunts of Rip Van Winkle and the little elf. And so, ad infinitum, go American Postcards far and wide as civilization, carrying messages from friend to friend the world over, advertising everything conceivable, doing missionary work in the aid of destiny of entire communities so portentous as to be almost incomprehensible.

Why he gives it away!

An enterprising retail bookseller in one of our Eastern cities makes it a point every year to buy a few extra copies of the PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL to present to some of his best customers, not always the same people. He figures that while the cost to him is very little, the result is highly satisfactory in having such an assemblage of descriptive catalogues in the possession of his most liberal book-buyers.

Here is a suggestion others may find worth while taking up!

Price $2.00 per copy.

If ordered and paid for in advance of publication $1.50 per copy.

Promote Your School Book Business

Booksellers can add to the volume of their business materially by developing carefully the sale of school books in their territory. While the margin of profit appears to be small it must be kept in mind that many schools, especially private schools, colleges and universities, order in quantities; the sale-season, though short, is "snappy" and there is a minimum of danger only in accumulating "dead" stock. When you make a customer for school books, be he the school principal or the pupil, you have a customer for other supplies as well and very often you form business friendships with "book-lovers" of the future.

To aid the bookseller in this branch of his business, we publish yearly an up-to-date "Educational List" containing the titles of current school books and their prices, together with a classified index of subjects. This catalogue we supply at a very low rate in quantities with the dealer's own imprint on front page—cheap enough to warrant any bookseller distributing it freely among all the educational institutions in his territory.

Langford of the Three Bars

"'LANGFORD of the Three Bars' is the best story of life on the cattle ranges that has ever appeared," says the SAN FRANCISCO EXAMINER, "aside from 'The Virginian.'" As long as Western novels are published reviewers will probably measure by that standard. Comparisons, however, do not trouble the SYRACUSE HERALD, which declares without reservation that "this is THE BEST SPECIMEN OF WESTERN FICTION WHICH HAS COME OUR WAY. Best in plot, in delineation of character, and in descriptive work."

You Should Have These Two Prominently Displayed on Your Shelves

"'The Iron Way' is a lively, hustling story, full of action fitting the times, and blending fact and fiction dextrously."

—Detroit Free Press.

"'The Iron Way' is thoroughly likable and wholesome, the characters real, and the style breezy. . . . It will be welcome to those fond of simple, vigorous romance."

Devota .

By AUGUSTA EVANS WILSON

A poignant tragedy in the lives of two persons—a man of sterling character and a proud woman—who are separated through a misunderstanding and kept apart by the woman's obstinacy, only to become reconciled after many years by the woman mastering her pride at the dictates of humanity, coming to the man she has wronged to plead for a criminal's pardon. This beautiful story is properly classed as a literary cameo.

12mo. Beautifully printed in two colors. Illustrated from four color drawings by Stuart Travis. Richly bound in cloth, $1.50

The Rock of Chickamauga

By GENERAL CHARLES KING

An historical story of the Civil War in which General George H. Thomas, the ideal soldier, is the central figure. This is General King's masterpiece. The actual facts and details of the story cover several years of careful work of what has been to the author a labor of love.

Adventure, intrigue and treachery, with a strong love interest running through the book, aside from the character drawing of the great Soldier, makes it a most charming story. The battle of Mill Spring, won by Thomas, brings his name into prominence, but when Major-Generals are appointed in the Spring of '62, Thomas is neglected.

Murfreesboro follows, and his superb part is described. His heroic stand at Chickamauga and the events leading up to it are described, and still the strange distrust of the War Department is obvious. Even the Atlanta campaign fails to convince the administration of his worth, and not until his overwhelming victory over Hood, at Nashville, after days of abuse and threats, does the opposition to him go to pieces with Hood's army.

The book is replete with stirring battle pictures and pen portraits of the great generals of the Army of the Cumberland, and is historically accurate from beginning to end.

12mo. Illustrated. Cloth bound, $1.50

Where the Red Volleys Poured

A Romance of the Civil War

By CHARLES W. DAHLINGER

The patriotism, chivalry, and romance of the most eventful period in American history, vividly presented in the character and experiences of a typical soldier of the time—Paul Didier, a German revolutionary exile, who enlists in the Union cause. The story begins with reminiscence of the same nature and in the same charming vein as Carl Schurz's recent autobiography. It ends amid the thunders of Gettysburg, a battle which the author describes with the pen of a dramatic historian.

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. $1.50

Garrison's Finish

By W. B. M. FERGUSON

A racing story of intense human interest. Garrison, the jockey, is accused of "throwing a race," but in the end vindicates himself and rides a remarkable race, winning favor and fortune and the girl he loves. The story is told with wonderful dramatic power, and will become immensely popular.

Illustrations by Charles Grunwald. 12mo. Beautifully bound in cloth, $1.50

NOTES IN SEASON.

BRENTANO'S have just ready two new books by Mrs. Baillie Reynolds—"A Dull Girl's Destiny," an entertaining novel of modern London society, and "School Days," a book for girls and boys.

THE GRAFTON PRESS have just brought out in the Grafton Historical Series, edited by Dr. Henry R. Stiles, "In Olde Massachusetts," a collection of sketches of old times and places during the early days of the Commonwealth, by Charles Burr Todd, author of "In Olde Connecticut," etc. The volume has fourteen illustrations from photographs.

THE WILSHIRE BOOK COMPANY, 200 William Street, New York City, have brought out a book entitled "The Pinkerton Labor Spy," by Morris Friedman, private stenographer of James McParland, one of the witnesses for defense in the Haywood trial at Boisé. Mr. Friedman's book claims to be an exposure of the alleged methods of a detective agency to break the Miners' Union.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & Co. will bring out on the 31st inst. "The Traitor," by Thomas Dixon, Jr., the final volume of his trilogy of the Reconstruction, in which he gives an account of the fall of the Ku-Klux Klan. The publishers had hoped to publish the book a week earlier, but the heavy advance orders have obliged them to defer the date of publication so as to enable them to supply all dealers on time.

THE CENTURY COMPANY will publish in the fall, in book form, the wood engravings of the Old Spanish Masters—thirty-one in all—on which Timothy Cole has been working for many years. One edition will be uniform with "Old Italian Masters," "Old Dutch and Flemish Masters" and "Old English Masters," the other will be an exquisite édition de luxe, the proofs taken on a hand press on Japanese paper.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS will publish at once "A History of Slavery in Cuba," by Dr. Hubert H. S. Aimes. This book is an exposition of the Spanish policy governing the slave trade in Cuba, and is the result of original research in Cuba, the United States, and Europe. Dr. Aimes was formerly Professor of History and Political Science in Ursinus College, and is now tutor in history in the College of the City of New York.

THE MURRAY HILL PUBLISHING Co. has published a booklet of forty-eight pages, entitled "The Bright Side of Kissing and the Dark Side," by E. B. Foote, Jr., M.D. The booklet is a combination of a novelty and a book with a purpose. Two sets of moving pictures are the attraction, while a sanitary lesson versus the risks of careless and promiscuous kissing fulfills the purpose. Half the reading matter consists of pleasantries that make easy reading for all who have any relish for little gems of poetry and romance; while the remaining half of the text might be called a doctor's sermon on kissing, with a view to lessening its risks, and the contagions conveyed thereby.

MCCLUKE & PHILLIPS will bring out next month the work of a new author, Francis Bancroft, who has written a South African novel, entitled "Of Like Passions." The mingling of the black and white races is the subject of this book, which in the intensity of its tragedy is said to resemble "The Story of an African Farm." They also announce a sequel to the "Little Grey House," by Marion Ames Taggart. Another child's book to be published by them is the "Two Royal Foes," a historical romance, having to do with Napoleon Bonaparte and Queen Louisa of Prussia, by Eva Madden, sister of the author of "Emmy Lou," whose "Letitia: Nursery Corps, U. S. A." will also be out in the fall.

Bottoms, Phyllis. The imperfect gift. N. Y., Dutton, 1907. 341 p. D. cl., **$1.50 net.

The novel opens in an obscure little town of northern Italy. Here are found the characters, whose fortunes have most space devoted to them in the story. Mrs. Delamaine, the widow of an English officer, and her two pretty daughters, have sought this retreat chiefly for economical motives. The scene changes to Dresden, where the young girls go for musical instruction. In Dresden an Austrian prince loses his heart to Evelyn, the elder girl, who is beautiful and ambitious, and offers her a morganatic marriage. She refuses him, and her mother dying, the sisters return to England. Love dominates their eventful careers to the end, bringing about some odd scenes.

A charming picture of English domestic life opens this latest novel by the author of "The baby's grandmother." Mr. and Mrs. Seaford have been married six years, and are living an ideal existence in an old fashioned country house. Mrs. Seaford (Olivia) is a clever young woman, who has few thoughts that do not centre in herself. Mr. Seaford is not so highly cultured as his wife, but a fine fellow, who adores his Olivia. He would like to know his neighbors better, but Olivia feels herself so superior to them, that he cannot induce her to make their acquaintance. Chance brings her into contact with a learned egotistical professor, who has much to do with her "enlightenment." She sees reflected in him much of her own selfishness and learns to truly value her somewhat neglected husband.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. L. RYFOLDT.

JULY 13, 1907.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter for advertising pages should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers and librarians depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalog," and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

SUMMER HOUSECLEANING.

SUMMER seems to be a favorable season for housecleaning, which, in a well-regulated bookstore, is as necessary as stock-taking. Spring used to be considered the most favorable season for this necessary duty, but, of late years, the rush of business has lasted well into the spring, and so the work of weeding out has generally been done only perfunctorily or has been left undone.

If the work of housecleaning cannot be undertaken in the spring, no month seems better adapted to it than the present. Now stock is at its lowest, transient trade is slow and the bookseller's assistants have ample time that cannot be employed to better advantage.

With the stock sheets in hand the one who is entrusted with the weeding out should go over every part of the store and condemn that which has proven unsalable, or that for some reason has become obsolete. Every article over six months old that has proven unavailable should be turned down and put on the bargain table unless there is good reason to give it a longer lease of life on the shelves. Frequent inspection of the shelves will assist not only in detecting the plugs, but will often also unearth misplaced "live" stock which, no matter how "live" it may be in other respects, in obscurity will be bound to become shopworn and stale and so lose in selling value.

Remainders, slow sellers, broken and damaged stock are bound to accumulate at some time or another in even the best managed bookstores. But they should not be allowed to take root. There is hardly a season of the year more favorable than this for the bookseller to rid himself of these impedimenta. Plenty of people on their vacations, or visitors from other cities, besides "shoppers" and "bargain hunters," are now on the wing and are apt to bite at anything that may serve as a souvenir, or that may strike their fancy, provided it can be had at a bargain.

This kind of stock should not be heaped up helter skelter anywhere, but should be attractively displayed—in the windows, or on tables near the open door—and put in charge of a clever salesman; it will be sure to go, if not at one price then at another. It is just as likely as not that this kind of bait will secure customers for other stock that will more than make up for the loss sustained in this sort of housecleaning.

We would remind those publishers who have not yet taken steps to forward their catalogues for the "Publishers' Trade List Annual" for 1907, that all catalogues intended for that volume must be in the hands of J. F. Tapley Company, 531 West Thirty-seventh Street, New York City, on or before July 31. Arrangements to take catalogues after that date may be made in advance only upon payment of a bonus to the binders for the extra work involved in inserting late catalogues after the body of the work has been collated.

GERMAN AUTHORS' OPPOSITION TO AMERICAN COPYRIGHT LAW.

COUNCILLOR H. SCHER, who is president of the Society of Journalists and Authors of Munich, Bavaria, has undertaken at the request of a great number of German authors a campaign against what some German authors call "the piratical American copyright law."

In a circular to the most prominent authors of Germany and Austria Dr. Scher asked them to estimate the loss they had suffered in the production of their works in the United States. Fourteen authors estimate their damage as $119,500. Max Nordau estimates his loss for "Conventional Lies" and "Paradoxes" alone at $150,000. It would be interesting to learn on what these estimates of loss are based. Very likely, in cabling the amount which Max Nordau claims to have lost, a decimal point was mistaken for a comma and so put in third place instead of the fourth. Even $1,500 would seem an exaggerated amount.

ELLEN TERRY'S MEMOIRS.

McClure's Magazine proposes to continue the publication of Ellen Terry's memoirs until they are concluded. S. S. McClure in making this announcement says: "It was with great regret that this magazine found itself compelled to discontinue for even a month the Terry memoirs. In view of the wide discussion of the matter a word of explanation is due to Miss Terry. In preparing this volume she reproduced certain portions of articles dealing with her early life which had been published ten or twelve years ago in an English review. This was quite a natural and proper proceeding for book publication; she, however, overlooked the fact that there was a violation of copyright in republishing these paragraphs in a magazine. The magazine, had it continued the publication of the memoirs in the form in which they were offered, would have become involved in a lawsuit. As soon, however, as the difficulty was called to Miss Terry's attention she showed an entire willingness to comply with our request and to remove all obstacles to the further publication of the articles."

Subsequent to the above announcement by the McClure Company, D. Appleton & Co., in an interview with a representative of the New York Times, made a statement to the effect that they signed a contract with Ellen Terry in 1892 for the exclusive American rights to her memoirs, the English rights being retained by William Heinemann. According to reports there are four claimants to these memoirs—D. Appleton & Co. and the McClure Company in this country, and William Heinemann & Co. and Arthur J. Pearson in England. It now remains for Miss Terry's English literary agent to unravel the tangle.

CENTRAL PASSENGER ASS'N MAKES RATES FOR MERCHANTS TO ALL BUSINESS CENTERS.

THE railroads in the Central Passenger Association have agreed that they had made a mistake in discriminating in favor of New York by the grant of reduced rates to enable merchants to go there to buy goods, while refusing to make similar rates to Chicago, St. Louis and other cities.

Reduced rates to New York were agreed upon a month ago by the railroads, and they announced at the time no special rates for merchants would be made to any other city. Since that time the mercantile interests of Chicago, St. Louis and Cleveland have been trying to convince the Eastern roads that they are entitled to the same rates for merchants as New York.

After discussing the subject for several hours at a meeting held in Chicago on July 10, all the roads in the Central Association agreed to make the same rates for merchants to Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland and New York as have been made for several years, the basis for round trip tickets to be one and one-third times the regular fare in effect prior to July 1 last, when the 2 cent fare laws of many States became operative. The basis is a trifle less than 2 cents per mile.

SUIT OVER PENNELLS' BIOGRAPHY OF WHISTLER.

THE question of the publication of certain information contained in the private letters of Whistler has been raised by a suit brought in the London courts by Miss R. B. Philip, suing as executrix of the estate of the artist, to restrain Joseph Pennell, Mrs. Joseph Pennell, and William Heinemann, the London publisher, from using these letters in a biography of Whistler now being written by the Pennells.

The Pennells declare that Whistler frequently expressed the desire that they write his life, saying, also, that he was willing to place all the material he had at their disposal. The plaintiff, who is a sister-in-law of the late artist, declares that she was only authorized to make a selection from the letters, to be published after a lapse of a number of years, and that the time has not yet arrived.

The hearing of the case was begun on July 3, and was adjourned.

JEWISH HISTORICAL SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS.

THE annual session of the American Jewish Historical Society was held at Newport, R. I. on July 3, in the building of the Newport Historical Society, representatives being present from all parts of the country. The following officers were elected: President, Dr. Cyrus Adler, Washington; vice-president, Simon W. Rosendale, Albany, N. Y.; the Rev. Dr. B. Felsenthal, Chicago; Professor Charles Gross, Cambridge, Mass., and Professor Richard J. H. Gottheil, New York; treasurer, N. Taylor Phillips, New York; curator, Leon Huhner, New York; corresponding secretary, Max J. Kohler, New York, and recording secretary, Dr. Isaac Friedenwald, New York.

CATHOLIC SCHOOL TEXT BOOKS.

THERE was a lively discussion in the Catholic Educational Association, at Milwaukee, on July 9, over the use of non-sectarian text books in Catholic schools.

Dr. Thomas E. Shields, of the Catholic University at Washington, declared that there should be no text book which is not religious, and also held that the very existence of the Catholic schools depends upon the system being complete in itself, its text books being written by Catholics. He added: "Every time we facilitate the transfer of pupils from our schools to the public schools we are untrue to our cause. If we are to be merely the tag end of the public school system why should we make all the sacrifices which our schools have cost? If we would keep the respect of our people we must show that we can write our own text-books."

Dr. E. A. Price, of Washington, believed in encouraging Catholics to compile text books of such superior merit that they might come to be used in the public schools. "We would both then be using the same books, just as we are now," he said, "but it would be beginning at the right end."

Dr. P. R. McDevitt, superintendent of parish schools at Philadelphia, and Dean Muligan were especially anxious that no action should be taken by the meeting which would give the impression that text books were to be rejected merely because they are used in the public schools. It was largely on their suggestion that a resolution committing the meeting was withdrawn.

JAMES MCGRANAHAN, a hymn writer, formerly connected with Moody and Sankey, the evangelists, died on July 8 at Kinsman, O. Mr. McGranahan was born in Adamsville, Pa., on July 4, 1840, and studied music under Carlo Bassani, Dr. George F. Root, Dr. William Mason, and others. He wrote many sacred songs, such as "There Shall be Showers of Blessings," "My Redeemer," "Some Day we will Understand," etc., and assisted in editing "The Choice," "The Harvest of Song," "Gospel Hymns," "Sacred Songs," and a dozen other collections of so-called gospel hymns.

CHARLES BARTLETT WARRING, founder and for twenty-eight years the principal of the Poughkeepsie Military Institute, died on July 4, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Dr. Warring was born in Charlton, N. Y., on January 15, 1825, and after being graduated from Union College was engaged in the manufacture of philosophical instruments. In 1863 he established the Poughkeepsie Military Institute, retiring in 1891. Dr. Warring was not only a teacher but a student, his specialty being the Hebrew cosmogony and its reconciliation with the teachings of modern science. He was a frequent contributor of articles on scientific and theologico-scientific subjects to the periodicals, and was the author of "The Mosaic Account of Creation, the Miracle of To-day," "Gyroscopic Bodies" and "Genesis I and Modern Science."

ERNST KUNO FISCHER, the celebrated German philosopher, died at Heidelberg, on July 4.

Professor Fischer was born on July 23, 1834, at Sandewald, Silesia, and was educated at the universities at Leipzig and Halle. His first published work, "Dictima, the Idea of the Beautiful," (1849) was the thesis by means of which he qualified as a private docent at Heidelberg in 1850. But upon the publication of the first part of his "History of Modern Philosophy," (1852,) the Bavarian government cancelled his license as a teacher, giving no reasons. The effect was to stimulate interest in the work and to create sympathy for the writer, especially when the Berlin authorities also denied him lecture privileges. It took an imperial order to overcome these prohibitions, and in the meantime Dr. Fischer had been called to the chair of philosophy at Jena in 1856. There he remained until 1872, when he was recalled to Heidelberg, the university that had before repudiated him. It was in the same year, also, that he brought out the completed edition of his "History of Modern Philosophy." The work was later revised and brought down to date by the author in a special edition, (1897-1903.) Professor Fischer continued at Heidelberg for the rest of his life and became one of the most notable figures in the town, as he was—in his particular field of learning—in all Germany. His "Logic and Metaphysics," published first in 1852 and latter in 1865, is a systematic treatment of philosophical problems which in content and method belong to the school of Hegel. Among his other works are his "Life of Kant and the Principles of His Teachings," "Life and Character of Spinoza," "The Confessions of Schiller," "Lord Bacon," "Goethe's Faust" and "Lessing as the Reformer of German Literature."

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

PROFESSOR GREGORY SMITH is writing the life of Ben Jonson for the English Men of Letters series—a notable omission which promises now to be well filled.

J. F. MEEHAN, of Bath, Eng., is contributing a series of illustrated articles to the columns of the Beacon on "James Quin, Actor and Wit, and his associations with Bath."

MRS. ANNIE BESANT has been elected president of the Theosophical Society in succession to the late Colonel Henry Steele Olcott, who died in India last February. She will visit the United States and other countries before returning to the headquarters of the society in India.

THE staff of Punch entertained Samuel L. Clemens, (Mark Twain,) upon whom the Oxford University recently conferred the degree of LL.D., at dinner on July 9. The guests sat at the famous dining room table, which is carved all over with the initials of generations of the most famous of British writers. An incident of the evening was the presentation to Mr. Clemens by little girls of the framed original of a cartoon which recently appeared in Punch, in which Punch is portrayed offering a toast to Mr. Clemens.

THE Florence correspondent of the London Daily Mail sends a pathetic story of the recent life of "Ouida," (Louise de La Ramé,) whose name a few days ago appeared in the British civil list as the recipient of a pension of $750 a year. Only two years ago Ouida occupied a splendid villa at St. Alessio, Lucca. Owing to extravagant expenditures she found herself so pressed for money that she was obliged to go without food for whole days. The proprietor of the villa eventually dispossessed Ouida, who brought suit and won her case in three courts, but her legal experiences still further exhausted her slender resources, and her ignorance of practical details got her into further financial difficulties. One night she spent on the seashore, when she contracted a cold which caused the loss of the sight of one eye and impaired her hearing. Her maid finally persuaded Ouida to live with her at her mother's home in the village of Massarosa. Ouida rarely goes out of doors and has few visitors. Her passion for dogs, the care of which was one of her extravagances, is not diminished one jot, though now she possesses only three. She has been heard to say that life would be hopeless misery without dogs. In Florence in her happier days, when her literary earnings enabled her to spend money without stint, she had always at least thirty dogs, besides many horses.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

THE oldest newspaper in the world, the King Pao, or News of the Capital, of Peking, will celebrate its 500th anniversary this year.

ACCORDING to their usual custom, Doubleday, Page & Company have made the July issue of The World's Work the "Uplift Number." In this issue is an article by C. M. Keyes, entitled "The Uplift of the World." Mr. Keyes's article has over twenty illustrations which gives a glimpse into the far-away corners of the world where the last strongholds of barbarism are yielding to civilization.

OLD BOOK NOTES.

A NUMBER of manuscripts, relics of various members of the Brontë family, according to the London correspondent of New York Herald, will be offered for sale by Sotheby, Wilkinson & Hodge on July 26. The manuscripts of Charlotte Brontë include "Caroline Vernon," a story apparently complete, but unpublished, on 106 pages octavo, signed Charles Townshend and dated March 26, 1839, and a story without a title, on forty-nine pages octavo, also signed C. Townshend and dated March 26, 1839. Another manuscript by Charlotte Brontë contains poems on fifty pages, dated 1836-7. Some are unpublished, while those which have been printed differ from the manuscript. Another lot comprises nine tiny volumes of juvenile tales in minute handwriting, six bearing the autograph of Charlotte and three that of her brother Patrick. Dickens's own reading copy of "A Christmas Carol," a rare first edition of "Pilgrim's Progress," and a characteristic manuscript note of Edmund Kean, the actor, are to be offered at the same sale.

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

TENNANT & WARD, 287 Fourth Avenue, New York, have published in pamphlet form, "A Short Introduction to Franciscan Literature," by Father Paschal Robinson, of the Order of Friars Minor, who aims to provide "a brief outline of the sources of Franciscan history . . . as well as a list of the principal works relating to St. Francis written since the thirteenth century." The list of 183 titles is prefaced by an interesting survey of the subject. (56 p. 32°, pap., 10 cents.)

DR. GUIDO BIAGI, the director of the Medicea-Laurentian and Riccardian Libraries of Florence, according to the promise made in the Rivista delle Biblioteche, in May, 1905, contributes to that periodical in a supplement entitled "The Best Italian Reading, a Guide to the Selection of Current Italian Books," the first instalment of a monthly bibliographical bulletin, the object of which is to indicate to English-speaking librarians the books which may be safely recommended for the Italian section of their libraries. Such effort should receive the heartiest support of all interested in the education of Italian immigrants, especially in this country, where the Italian population is becoming so numerous, and where the average librarian has neither the knowledge of the language nor the time to inform himself of the literature of the people, even supposing that they subscribed for the Italian critical journals and that there were any that fulfilled their requirements. In the first numbers of this Bulletin, (the first number of which is dated January, 1907,) Dr. Biagi will indicate the books most necessary and useful for forming the nucleus of a small Italian library. In other numbers Dr. Biagi will indicate the current output of Italian publications, dividing it in two sections, one for the small and the other for the larger libraries.

STAN. V. HENKELS & Co., 1112 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, have just ready the first volume of "The Bibliographer's Manual of American History, containing an account of all State, Territory, Town and County Histories relating to the United States of North America, with verbatim copies of their titles and useful bibliographical notes, together with the prices at which they have been sold for the last forty years, and with an exhaustive index by titles and an index by States." The work has been compiled by Thomas Lindsley Bradford, M.D., well known as the compiler of the "Homœopathic Bibliography of the United States," a "Life of Hahnemann," etc., and has been edited and revised by Stan. V. Henkels, the well-known auctioneer and bibliographer. The work will be in five octavo volumes, of from 350 to 400 pages each, and will be sold only by subscription. It aims to include all books relating to the subject printed prior to January 1, 1904, and all information has been obtained, so far as possible, from original sources. The work will be of great value to the historian and librarian, and will be of ever increasing value to the bookseller and collector as a guide to the value and rarity of the books included, having been compiled with the greatest care for that special purpose. The edition has been printed from type and is limited to 1000 copies, over half of which have already been disposed of. (10+340 p. 8°, cl.)

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

HENRY HOLT & COMPANY are just issuing a low-priced edition—their seventh—of Morgan's "Ancient Society." This is the only authorized American edition.

EMANUEL LEUTZE's painting of "The First Settlement of Maryland" is now on exhibition at the Doxey Bookshop in Baltimore, Md. A very strong effort is being made to secure the painting for the City Hall in Baltimore or for the State House at Annapolis.

WILLIAM BRIGGS, of Toronto, will publish shortly a Canadian edition of "Sister Carrie," by Theodore Dreiser, which has had a surprisingly large sale in England and in this country. Arrangements are being made to bring the book out in Australia.

R. F. FENNO & Co. have just ready "The Serf," a tale of the time of King Stephen, by Guy Thorne, author of "When It Was Dark," etc. Though first and foremost "The Serf" is a story of "excitement," of vivid incident and clash of arms, it is also a fairly accurate picture of life in the early middle ages.

IN view of the widespread awakening to the real issues that underlie "the so-called Sunday question," Thomas Whittaker, of New York City, has issued a volume of "Sermons on Sunday Observances," to which Bishop Ridgeway, of Kensington, the Rev. S. Baring-Gould, Canon Jelf and other eminent clergymen contribute, and to which Canon Ottley writes the Introduction.

THOMAS Y. CROWELL & Co. announce a New Handy Information Series which adds several little volumes to their former series of similar works. Among them are: "How to Play Golf," "How to Play Chess," "Handy Book of Card Games," "Handy Book of Synonyms," and "How to Keep Well." There are fifteen such practical titles in all, each carefully compiled from the best authorities, and obtainable at a popular price.

THE HILLS & HAFELY Co., 27 East Twenty-second Street, New York, have just brought out an attractive year-book, entitled "Echoes of the Sanctuary—devotional thoughts for every day of the year, carefully selected to continue and complete the Sabbath influence of the Church," compiled by "Gretchen," with a prefatory note by the Archbishop of York. The book is printed in red and black, and illustrated with eight photogravure plates.

THE FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY have just brought out, in two octavo volumes, a work on the "Race Life of the Aryan People," by Dr. Joseph P. Widney, who, beginning with the Asiatic period, in the life of the Aryan races, outlines in chronological order the various emigrations into India, Southern and Western Europe, and finally into America, from all of which, it is supposed, has resulted ancient and modern civilization.

THE chief subject of the controversy between President Roosevelt and William J. Long is an incident in the story of "Wayeesees the White Wolf." The story has just been reprinted in a separate volume, with all of the illustrations as it appeared in the collection of stories by Mr. Long, entitled "Northern Trails." For this edition of "Wayeeses the White Wolf" Mr. Long has made a special preface of some length, prompted by President Roosevelt's attack upon his veracity.

LUCIEN PISSARRO has been awarded a grand prix at the recent Milan exhibition for the work shown in the books issued from the Eragny Press. These books are published in this country by the John Lane Company. This award calls to mind the fact that the Eragny handmade books are regarded in England and on the continent as the legitimate successors to the work of the famous Kelmscott Press. The Eragny Press, however, does not seek, as Morris did, to revive an old tradition but has developed a new one from the old, and herein lies no little of its claims to distinction.

LONGMANS, GREEN & Co. will publish shortly a new book by the Rev. George Tyrrell, entitled "Scylla and Charybdis, or the Old Theology and the New." The volume consists of a series of essays, in which the writer tries "to reconcile the sacrosanct character of revelation and dogma on which the old theology was built with the full scientific and philosophical liberty claimed by the new theology." They expect to be able to bring out in November, in three volumes, "The Letters of Queen Victoria," edited, under the direction of King Edward VII, by Arthur Benson and Viscount Esher.

WILLIAM J. BURKHARDT, 206 Ocean Avenue, Jersey City, N. J., is preparing for the holiday season a novelty in the shape of a broom pencil, a miniature broom, the handle of which is a pencil, tied to a kid-finish card, 6 x 3 inches, hand-stamped with a spray of holly and the sentiment, "May this broom on Christmas day care and trouble sweep away." The price of a dozen has been fixed at $1.25 net. Mr. Burkhardt has also gotten up for the holidays a "Santa Claus Book Mark," in sterling silver, with Santa Claus design, fastened to a red cardboard stocking stamped with holly. There are a number of other novelties in preparation, word of which will be given upon application.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. have just brought out in their English Library Series, a "History in Fiction, a Guide to the best Historical Romances, Sagas, Novels and Tales," in two volumes, by E. A. Baker, the first volume of which treats of English Fiction and the second volume of American and Foreign. The work has a copious index to each volume. They have also just ready, "The Imperfect Gift," by Phyllis Bottome, and "Pilgrimage," by C. E. Lawrence. To the New Universal Library they have added: "The True Travels and Adventures of Captain John Smith," from A. D. 1593 to 1629, and "Rejected Addresses," by Horace and James Smith, with the prefaces to the 1st and 18th editions, and the "Notice" from the Quarterly.

McCLURE, PHILLIPS & Co. will publish in the fall the new comedy by Anthony Hope, entitled "Helena's Path," now appearing serially in the Woman's Home Companion.

They announce also "Wards of Liberty," a new collection of stories of school life on the East Side, by Myra Kelly, dealing with the same types and introducing many of the same characters which gave "Little Citizens" its wide vogue when it was published a few years ago; and Mary Stewart Cutting's new book, "The Suburban Whirl," which will contain what may be called a long story of married life, and, in addition, three new stories of "the happiest time"—all of the same wholesome, human type that have raised Mrs. Cutting to the pinnacle of her art in this field.

THE OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS will publish at once the second part of the Tebtunis Papyri, edited by Dr. B. P. Grenfell and Dr. A. S. Hunt, with the assistance of Professor E. J. Goodspeed, of Chicago. The first volume, dealing with the papyri obtained from the mummies of crocodiles, was published in 1902; the new volume deals with the papyri found in the houses of Umm el Baragât, the ancient Tebtunis, most of the documents belonging to the first three centuries of the Christian era. An important literary fragment is that of the lost Greek original of Dictys Cretensis; other papyri throw much light upon the relations of the temples to the State in the Roman period, and upon taxation. It may be recalled that the excavations were undertaken for the University of California, on behalf of which the Oxford University Press is publishing the series, with funds provided by Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst.

THE JOHN LANE COMPANY is planning to establish a system of card announcements of their new publications, to the trade and librarians. They have adopted orange as the distinctive color of their publication and have selected cards of Library Bureau size, (5 x 3 inches,) giving author's name in the left-hand corner, short title, price and brief descriptive note in center of the card, date of publication in the left-hand corner at the bottom, and name and address of publishers in the right-hand corner at the bottom of the card. As they import many publications, they desire to meet the foreign price on books ordered for libraries. They would, therefore, request that all such orders be marked For library use. They will bill these books at a price which will protect the dealer and enable the library to secure importations at the lowest possible price. They believe that this plan will be of mutual benefit, and will save time for the library. In case of imperfect or damaged books, it will be of special convenience.

L. C. PAGE & COMPANY have in preparation for early fall publication an unusually large and important list of books of travel in foreign countries, including the following titles: "Castles and Chateaux of Old Navarre," by Francis Miltoun; "Castles and Keeps of Scotland," by Frank Roy Fraprie; "Turkey and the Turks," by W. S. Monroe; "Umbrian Cities of Italy," by J. W. and A. M. Cruickshank; "A Woman's Journey Through the Philippines," by Florence Kimball Russel; and "Mexico, Her People To-day," by Nevil O. Winter. New England will be represented by Mary Caroline Crawford's new volume, entitled "Old New England Inns." Art books for this year include "Art of the Prado," by C. S. Ricketts, and Estelle M. Hurl's "Portraits and Portrait Painting." Nevin O. Winter is a new author on the list—the others already having successful publications to their credit—but his volume on Mexico will undoubtedly establish his reputation as a keen observer with excellent powers of description and comment.

G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY will publish on July 19 "Devota," by Augusta Evans Wilson, the story of a tragedy in the lives of two persons—a man of sterling character and a proud woman—who were separated through a misunderstanding and kept apart by the woman's obstinacy, only to become reconciled after many years by the woman mastering her pride at the dictates of humanity, coming to the man she has wronged to plead for a criminal's pardon. The book was announced for June, but its issue was delayed for a second printing. They will publish at the same time, "The Rock of Chickamauga," by General Charles King, a historical story of the war between the States in which General George H. Thomas, the ideal soldier, is the central figure; "Where the Red Volleys Poured," another romance of the War between the States, by Charles W. Dahlinger, which ends amid the thunder of Gettysburg, a battle which the author describes with the pen of a dramatic historian; also "Garrison's Finish," a racing story of intense human interest, by W. B. M. Ferguson.

THE BAKER & TAYLOR COMPANY have in preparation Dickens' "The Holly Tree Inn and A Christmas Tree," with illustrations by George Alfred Williams, whose former illustrations of Dickens' Christmas books found great favor with readers in England—in fact, enjoyed the unique distinction of being the first American editions adopted by English publishers for the home market. They also announce for the fall the second volume of Russell Sturgis' "History of Architecture," "The Appreciation of Literature," by Professor George E. Woodberry; "The Appreciation of the Drama," by Charles H. Caffin; "Building a Home," by Henry W. Desmond, editor of The Architectural Record; "Browning's Italy," by Helen A. Clarke; "The Story of Joseph," illustrated in color by George Alfred Williams, with an introduction by Fletcher Harper Swift; "Inana Yoga—Part II," being further lectures by the late Swami Vivekananda; also, "The Challenge of the City," by Dr. Josiah Strong, two-fifths of which is based on the author's work, "The Twentieth Century City," revised and brought down to date, the other three-fifths being entirely new matter.

THE FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY have just ready a volume entitled "The Christ from Without and Within," a study of the gospel, of St. John, by Rev. Henry W. Clark, whose "Philosophy of Christian Experience," issued last year, called forth emphatic approval among eminent reviewers on both sides of the ocean. At that time not even his publisher could give any definite answer to the endless questions regarding this author. Further correspondence has discovered that Mr. Clark is a graduate of Hackney College, ex-pastor of two Congregational churches, and now enjoying a little leisure for literary work at Harpenden, Hertfordshire. They will publish early in August Arthur H. Smith's "China and America To-day." The author seems to enjoy the confidence of headquarters at Washington and Peking. While on a flying trip here last spring, he was summoned to Washington and in response to close inquiry as to affairs he urged that the balance of the Chinese indemnity be surrendered with the recommendation that China use the free gift for educational purposes. Evidently, his counsel has been considered at Washington, and it remains to be seen if it will be adopted at Peking. The volume is not large but it contains much information conveyed in a lively and readable style.

DODD, MEAD & Co. have in preparation a "History of American Philosophy," by Professor I. Woodbridge Riley of the Department of Philosophy at Johns Hopkins University. This study, based upon three years of original investigation among rare works and unpublished manuscripts, presents "an account of the most important speculative movements as they were transferred from Europe, developed during two centuries, and slowly grew into the typical American philosophy of Emerson. Commencing with Puritanism Professor Riley deals successively with the Deism which sprang up in reaction against Calvinism and culminated in the revolutionary French skepticism. Idealism is shown to have arisen spontaneously with Jonathan Edwards and was fostered by Bishop Berkeley. Anglo-French materialism came to America with Joseph Priestley and was developed in Philadelphia, and the South. Realism, or the 'Philosophy of Common Sense,' was imported directly from Scotland and dominated this country until the advent of German transcendentalism." In these historic studies from original sources Professor Riley lays stress on the influence of the Colonial colleges upon local thought, Harvard being identified with Deism, Yale with Idealism, Pennsylvania with Materialism, and Princeton with Realism. But besides the academic representatives, attention is given to the popular exponents of these movements, such as Thomas Paine among the Deists, Thomas Jefferson among the Realists and Benjamin Rush among the Materialists.

LOTHROP, LEE & SHEPARD have in preparation for publication in the fall, the second volume of the Pigeon Camp Series, entitled "The Boys of Pigeon Camp, Their Luck and Fun," by Martha James, a book brimful of action that appeals to healthy boys; also, "A Little Pioneer in Nevada," by Edith M. H. Baylor, which describes the adventures of a patriotic little boy in the mining districts of Nevada, illustrated with reproductions from photographs. For girls they are preparing the fifth volume of the Helen Grant Series—"Helen Grant, Senior," by Amanda M. Douglas, which follows the career of this popular heroine through her last year in college, with illustrations by Amy Brooks; "Marion's Vacation," by Nina Rhodes, (with illustrations by Bertha G. Davidson,) which is for rather older girls than the well-known Brick House Books by this charming author, Marion being thirteen; "Ruth Erskine's Son," by "Pansy," (Mrs. G. R. Alden,) (with illustrations by Louise Clark,) which describes the later life of Ruth Erskine, who was one of the famous "Four Girls at Chautauqua," and now is the widow of Judge Burnham; "Randy's Prince," by Amy Brooks, who has also made the illustrations, the eighth and concluding volume of the Randy Books, in which the readers take leave of their heroine as the affianced of her "Prince;" "Dorothy Dainty at Home," another story by Amy Brooks, which makes the sixth volume of the Dorothy Dainty Series, in which the reader is again introduced to Dorothy at her beautiful country home, and to her faithful friend Nancy Ferris; also, "Kitty-Cat Tales," by Alice Van Leer Carrick, who most ingeniously makes use of a pet black kitten in the telling of one of the finest groups of cat legends ever brought together, which have been illustrated by Homer Eaton Keyes.

A. C. McCURR & Co. have in preparation a new novel by Randall Parrish, entitled "Beth Norvell," dealing with the Colorado Mining Camps of the present day, with a frontispiece in colors by N. C. Wyeth; "The Crimson Conquest," by Charles B. Hudson, who has chosen for his background the period and events of Pizarro's conquest of Peru, for which J. C. Leyendecker has drawn a frontispiece reproduced in color, and a remarkable cover design; "For Maisie," by Katherine Tynan, a story of England and English people, with a frontispiece by Walter J. Enright; Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities" and "Oliver Twist" and Scott's "Kenilworth" and "Ivanhoe," the first four volumes of The Prairie Classics, a new series of the works of great writers of fiction in uniform shape and at the uniform price of one dollar the volume; "My Book of Joys, the Story of My New England Girlhood Home," by Lucy Fitch Perkins, a charming study of New England life and character, with five illustrations in color by the author; "Immensee," by Theodor Storm, a new rendering of this beautiful classic, by George P. Upton, with nine illustrations, in color, by Margaret and Helen M. Armstrong; "With Wordsworth in England," by Anna B. McMahan, who takes up Wordsworth in England as she did Shelley, Byron and the Brownings in her Italian books, with sixty illustrations from photographs; "Shakespeare's Christmas Gift to Queen Bess," also by Mrs. McMahan, who has woven a delightful little essay—really a story—around the first presentation of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" at Queen Elizabeth's court, printed in quaint old style type, with charming illustrations; also "The Lincoln Year Book," with axioms and aphorisms by the great Emancipator, and "The Franklin Year Book," with maxims and morals from the Great American Philosopher, both compiled by Wallace Rice. Other books in preparation will be noted in a future issue.

American-Postcards-Chicago

provide the most practical and effective method of advertising a city or town—a summer or winter resort—a railroad or steamship company—a manufacturing or mercantile concern—a mining or agricultural region—a public or private building—a lake—a river—a park—a mountain—a new country or an old country—everything that can be pictured.

Law effective March 1, 1907, admits writing or printing on half of the address side of postcards, and for transmission through-out Postal Union for one cent postage. Picture side remains a distinctive, permanent advertisement.

Collection and preservation of postcards has grown to tremendous proportions throughout the world. The superior quality of American Postcards assures their preservation. The possession of attractive and accurate views of their home surroundings is of great interest to every man, woman and child in a community.

Buy from the Manufacturer and save all Middlemen's Profits. We make Postcards for you from any size Photo or Print you send us, deliver them in 10 days' time, and put your Name on as the Publisher. Prices quoted for Photosimile and Phototypes are for a single thousand. Prices on larger quantities and re-orders furnished on application.

SIZES OF PHOTOGRAPHS should always be uniform, either 5x8, 6½x8½, 8x10 or larger. Smaller photographs can be used if made with exceptionally good lenses, but the larger sizes specified are always preferable. Solito prints or any prints in brown or sepia are not available for anything but reproduction in one color. Glossy prints should never be made for our use. In printing from negatives Double Weight Velox (Semi-Glass) Paper should be used, and developing should be done with Eastman M. Q. developer. Where it is not practicable to follow these instructions to the letter, photographers will use developer that will bring out sharp detail, and paper that will absorb color when we make our color drawings.

DESCRIPTIONS OF SCENES should always be explicit, stating near or in what state, town and country the scene is located, so that no matter what part of the world the postcards finally reach, each postcard is self-explanatory. If the view is to be seen from a railway train, steamship or other means of transportation enroute, it should be so stated. If "reached by," and not directly in sight while traveling, note should be made to that effect.

SAMPLES OF POSTCARDS now being used by parties sending photographs to us are desired always, in order that we may determine which style of our productions would be most distinctly different and superior in quality to the postcards that have been or are now in use by the sender of photographs or in his locality.

DESCRIPTIVE COLOR SCHEMES should accompany each photograph forwarded, giving color of buildings, flags, pennants, transportation equipment, stone, rocks, etc., in a general way, so that our color drawings when completed will represent the original scene as correctly as possible without having our colorists actually at each individual scene.

HISTORIC SCENES OF AMERICA are always desirable so long as no copyright restriction precludes their free reproduction by us. Written permission to us to use a copyrighted photograph or picture of any kind, signed by the owner of the copyright, is all that is necessary. We will imprint proper notice of copyright on each picture reproduced from such original.

PHOTOGRAPHERS should communicate with us. We give special attention to making postcards of new buildings, public improvements, construction and architectural work in process, etc. Quotations promptly furnished.

HAND COLORED POSTCARDS for small quantities of special views made to order. Prices quoted on application.

HARPER'S WEEKLY. [Editorial, March 30, 1907.] NEW POSTCARD REGULATIONS.—The Universal Postal Congress which met in the city of Rome last year provided for universal admission to the mails on and after October 1, 1906, of postcards bearing written messages upon the left half of the front of the card—the right half of the face of the card being reserved for the address under the postage-stamp. The postcard craze struck Europe and spread all over the Old World before it reached America, and, being a little backward in postal affairs, the American postal authorities did not so readily as other countries see the inevitable result of greatly increased postal revenues by catering to the fad and granting the privilege of writing on one-half of the face of the card. The privilege enabled the manufacturers of cards to print a picture all over the reverse, and at the same time gave users space for a message on the face. Under the Universal Postal Convention's agreement many millions of cards which otherwise would not have been used found their way into the mails and proportionately increased the postal revenues of such countries as admitted them. In publishing the action of the Rome convention the Postmaster-General also issued an order which provided that "On and after March 1, 1907, such cards bearing a written message upon the left half of the front, the right half being reserved for the address and postmark, when fully prepaid by postage-stamps at the rate applicable to postcards, shall be admitted both to the domestic and international mails of this country and treated as postcards." In view of the fact that the postal revenues show a deficit of many millions the wisdom of the action of the Post-office Department is seriously questioned, especially as since the order was promulgated in October, 1906, the United States has transmitted without extra cost all cards which came in from foreign countries with messages written on the left half of the face.

PRINTERS, PUBLISHERS, LITHOGRAPHERS, ENGRAVERS and others not making a specialty of manufacturing postcards and stereographs are advised to communicate with us. We can give you lower prices and work more satisfactory to your customer than you can make for the same price we charge you. Your profit will be relatively greater. Quotations promptly furnished.

STEREOSCOPIC NEGATIVES we are always ready to purchase for cash. Prints should be submitted, subject to our returning them immediately after examination if negatives are not purchased. Correspondence invited relative to making new negatives by photographers having stereoscopic cameras.

RETAIL DEALERS ORDER YOUR OWN LOCAL VIEWS MADE

Compare our prices with those of any other responsible concern in the United States or Europe. Then compare our work with that of any concern in the world at any price. The enterprising dealer that gets local cards out first is the one that gets the money and controls the trade in his locality. Three thousand millions of post cards were sold in 1906. How many more millions will be sold from now on simply rests with the wise, up-to-date dealers that act at once in supplying the unprecedented demand for post cards by the American public which is really just beginning.

Morris
Friedman

the private Stenographer of

who boasted that MOYER,
HAYWOOD and PETTI-
BONE will never leave Idaho alive. Friedman's presence and testimony at the trial, as everyone knows, has been one of its most sensational features.

Every Trade Unionist, Mine Owner, Socialist, Capitalist, Ordinary Citizen and Millionaire wants this book. 50,000 copies sold in six weeks, and the sale increasing. Liberal discount to the trade. Write at once for sample copy and full particulars.

"The Pinkerton Labor Spy" is the most extraordinary exposure of the machinery of industrial tyranny that I have ever read in my life. It will do more than anything yet published to awaken the American people to the infamous crimes against labor which have been committed in Colorado. I appeal to the Labor movement to place a copy of this book in the hands of every workingman in America.

Promote Your School Book Business

Booksellers can add to the volume of their business materially by developing carefully the sale of school books in their territory. While the margin of profit appears to be small it must be kept in mind that many schools, especially private schools, colleges and universities, order in quantities; the sale-season, though short, is "snappy" and there is a minimum of danger only in accumulating "dead" stock. When you make a customer for school books, be he the school principal or the pupil, you have a customer for other supplies as well and very often you form business friendships with "book-lovers" of the future.

To aid the bookseller in this branch of his business, we publish yearly an up-to-date "Educational List" containing the titles of current school books and their prices, together with a classified index of subjects. This catalogue we supply at a very low rate in quantities with the dealer's own imprint on front page—cheap enough to warrant any bookseller distributing it freely among all the educational institutions in his territory.

NOTICE AND WARNING

Owing to the prominence and large sale of our series of Teddy Bears Books, several booksellers have been led to believe that the letter of warning issued by Edward Stern & Co., of Philadelphia, against infringements of their copyrights applied to our line. Messrs. Stern & Co. have conceded that our Teddy Bears Books do not infringe their copyrights, and we take this means of notifying the trade to that effect.

Knowing our rights as licensed publishers of the Teddy Bears Books, the pictures and text of which first appeared in "Judge" in cartoon form—every page being copyrighted by Judge Company as published from week to week—we will defend any dealer in the selling of our series of Teddy Bears Books.

Furthermore, we shall sue for damages any publishers who shall hereafter circulate a letter or advertisement warning against Teddy Bears Books in general, unless our series is specifically excepted.

NOTES IN SEASON.

LODD, MEAD & Co. are preparing for the holidays a new novel by Owen Wister, entitled "Mother," a story of Wall Street, in which Cupid becomes entangled in the tape of a broker's "ticker," with illustrations by John Rae; also, "The Stooping Lady" and "The Mother of Man," both by Eden Phillpotts, which are now running serially in The Bookman.

W. T. KEENER & Co., 90 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, elsewhere in this issue call attention to a number of their new medical publications, and point out that they have no traveling agents in the field nor wish to circulate their books through subscription agencies. They hope to use the booksellers as their distributing agents, and will send their books on approval to parties of approved credit. One good turn deserves another, and it is to be hoped that the trade will respond accordingly.

HARPER & BROTHERS have just brought out a new book by Justus Miles Forman, entitled "A Stumbling Block." The scenes of the story are set principally in New York City and in a little near-by town, and the characters are distinctively American. They have also just ready the twenty-second volume of The American Nation series, "Reconstruction, Political and Economic," by Dr. William Archibald Dunning; and "Adventures of Uncle Sam's Sailors," by Commander Peary, U. S. N., Molly Elliot Seawell, Kirk Munro and others.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & Co. will publish on August 15 "The Lone Star," by Eugene P. Lyle, Jr., author of "The Missourian," a dramatic story of Texas in the days of Houston, Crockett and Bowie, which is described as "the Iliad of Texas." They will publish on August 25 Leroy's story of the New York Bowery and the lesson that it teaches, entitled "To Him That Hath." They have in preparation a new novel by Miss Ellen Glasgow, entitled "The Beaten Road," in which is depicted the life of a typical Virginian, Richard Ordway; also, "His Own People," by Booth Tarkington, in which he describes the intensely interesting and conflicting experiences of a young man from Indiana who finds himself under the spell and glamor of Paris.

L. C. PAGE & COMPANY announce that Bliss Carman will not be able to finish his new book of prose essays, entitled "The Making of Personality," in time for publication this fall, as originally announced, and that the book will not be issued until next year. Mr. Carman intends that the new volume shall represent only his very best work. The second volume in the Jack Lorimer Series by Winn Standish is now in preparation for early fall publication. "Jack Lorimer's Champions" is the title, and the book fully sustains the interest of the preceding volume, which was one of the best-liked juveniles of last fall. Baseball, water sports and outdoor summer games give plenty of employment to the group of athletic school boys, of which Jack Lorimer is the ringleader.

LITTLE, BROWN & Co. will publish on August 24 E. Phillips Oppenheim's new novel, entitled "A Lost Leader," a romance of modern life, the hero of which is a striking character who has elected to stand aloof from the conflict of the political world. They have in preparation "Day—New Year in New York," by Anna Chapin Ray, a continuation of the author's Sidney Series of Canadian-American stories; also, "Theodora," by Miss Katharine Pyle, author of Nancy Rutledge, which met with great favor. They have postponed the publication of the pocket editions of the masterpieces of Alexandre Dumas and Victor Hugo until the fall, when pocket editions of Jane Austen's novels will also be issued. These editions will meet the growing demand for small, light volumes of the standard writers.

The lessons are printed just as they were prepared and given by the teacher. The weekly "schemes" are copied from the teachers' notebooks, and the compositions are those done by the children during the week they have been studying and practicing the particular "thought" or ideal of conduct which it is the aim of the lessons to develop and accentuate.

Snyder, Carl. American railways as investments: a detailed and comparative analysis of all the leading railways, from the investor's point of view; with an introductory chapter on The methods of estimating railway values. N. Y., Moody Corporation, 1907. c. 762 p. tables, map, O. cl., *$3.20 net.

The railroads of America are not owned by millionaires, but by from one to two million investors, large and small, whose average holdings are probably less than $8000 each. The present work is designed for the use of these investors and for the investment banker and broker who serve them. It covers about 190,000 miles of road, or about 90 per cent. of the total in the United States. It presents a detailed and comprehensive analysis of all the larger roads, nearly 100 in number, and estimates the comparative safety of their bonded securities, and the present and prospective value of their shares; in the belief that these present a greater degree of safety with a larger opportunity of profit than any other form of property in which the investor may place his funds. The book is written in untechnical language, for the general investor, is wholly unbiased, and is prefaced by an elaborate introduction on the methods of estimating railway values.

Spargo, J. Capitalist and laborer: an open letter to Professor Goldwin Smith, D.C.L., in reply to his "Capital and labor"; and, Modern socialism: a lecture delivered at the New York School of Philanthropy. Chic., Charles H. Kerr & Co., 1907. c. 5-122 p. S. (Standard socialist ser.) cl., 50 c.

In the second part Mr. Spargo especially directs attention to the recent criticisms of socialism made by Mr. Mallock.

Stanard, Mary Newton. The story of Bacon's Rebellion. Wash., D. C., Neale Publishing Co., 1907. c. 181 p. D. cl., $1.

Just one hundred years before the Revolution the thrilling drama known as Bacon's Rebellion was enacted in Virginia. The principal scenes were in Jamestown at the "Middle Plantation," and at the Falls of James River. The two leading characters were Sir William Berkeley, the Cavalier governor of Virginia, and Mr. Nathaniel Bacon, Jr., the people's champion. The Rebellion makes an important chapter in our history because it was not only the most picturesque and romantic, but the most determined and long-lived struggle for popular rights in colonial America. Some years ago Professor Swift, a graduate student at Teachers' College, Columbia University, dramatized the story of Joseph and had it enacted by the seventh grade boys and girls of the Speyer School. Since then it has been produced as a specimen of dramatic work in connection with a Sunday-school exhibit arranged by the Department of Biblical Literature. It is now published to meet the request of those who wish to use it in Sunday-school work. Preceded by suggestions for scenery. Dr. Hodge, of the Teachers' College, contributes an introduction.

Thorne, Guy, [pseud.] for Cyril Arthur E: Ranger Gull. The serf. N. Y., R. F. Fenno & Co., [1907.] 310 p. D. cl., $1 net.

A tale of the time of King Stephen of England by the author of "When it was dark." The action of the story takes place in the early mediæval ages, the actual date being about 1136, that period of anarchy and wickedness which has no parallel in English history. It is the story of Hyla the serf, who revolted against the cruel treatment of his master, and with his fellow serfs made a dash for liberty. In Hyla's story the author says: "the reader will trace the growth of that great political idea which has gained Englishmen their freedom."

Voltaire, François Marie Arouet de. Contes choisis; preface de Gustave Lanson. N. Y., Putnam, 1907. 13+3-210+2 p. por. S. (Les classiques français; ed. by M. H. Warner Allen.) leath., $1 net.

"St. Jude's" stands for a west-end Glasgow church, to which John Carmichael, minister of the Free Kirk of Drumtochty had been called. The dozen sketches paint with kindly humor and searching satire members of his flock and occurrences of his ministry. They are among the last work from the pen of the much regretted "Ian Maclaren."

Wellcome's photographic exposure record and diary, 1907. United States ed. N. Y., Burroughs, Wellcome & Co., 1907. 260 p. 24°, cl., 50 c.

Welles, C: Stuart, M.D. The Ellwoods. N. Y., Morgan M. Renner, [1907.] 5-351 p. D. pap., $1.50.

With a pretty love story the author sets forth his views on marriages—polygamous or monogamic—his argument, briefly stated, being that a monogamic system should be devised, but yet compelling men to support all women by whom they have children, legitimatizing the children, if not the mothers. The object of this system would be to encourage the ideal monogamic marriage, and yet lend to the law instruments to enforce it.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LYPOLDT.

JULY 20, 1907.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter for advertising pages should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

SLOW PAY.

ONE of the evils of the "dog days" is the difficulty encountered by the retail bookseller in making collections, and never has this caused greater embarrassment than this season. In large cities most retailers find themselves more or less inconvenienced because their very richest customers, whose trade seems on the face the most desirable, are the slowest in paying their bills. As these customers are large purchasers, a few accounts of this sort, undoubtedly good, will do much to embarrass any dealer whose margin of working capital may be restricted. Indeed, the reluctance of such customers to separate themselves from their cash within a reasonable period has often caused the ruin of the tradesmen who carry any large number of such accounts on their books. The dealer hesitates to press these customers for their money, because he knows that they are responsible and because he knows that such attempts to collect, however justifiable, are likely to be considered as an affront and to jeopardize future trade, and so the dealers' hands are tied by the very circumstances of the case.

The reasons for this difficulty are various and curious. There are few men so niggardly as to desire to hold over payment for the mere sake of holding their money and saving interest; but to the very rich people the ordinary bookseller's account seems very small, although to the bookseller such an account may be very large. Many such persons also handle their personal accounts only at long intervals, or leave them to a secretary, who has no relation of responsibility to the creditor. And then the bookseller is often at fault in overdoing this line of business, and accumulating large accounts which he must know will be of slow pay.

It is easier, we know, to state all this than to suggest a remedy. Doubtless, in the majority of cases, especially if the dealer has personal relations with his customers, if the actual fact is tactfully brought to the attention of the delinquent, an account of this sort will be paid with promptness. It is simply difficult to get the retailer's point of view before the rich customer. That, however, should be attempted, not by printed circulars or collectors' "persecutions," but by a personal letter, if a personal interview is impracticable, stating exactly the retailer's position and difficulty. In extreme cases it might almost be better to risk the loss of such customers than to jeopardize a business with a close working capital by piling up accounts which involve months or years of delay in payment.

WE cannot say the good word we should like to say for the proposed Bulletin of Best-selling Current Literature, announced elsewhere by the "Publishers' Book Bulletin," 47 Fourth Avenue, (Bible House,) New York, the latest project of Mr. John B. Alden's. The bookseller is offered a 64-page 16mo publication for half a cent a copy; "the publishers pay the rest." The postage is to be one cent a copy, but the bookseller will be charged only half that if he will send the list of his customers for direct mailing; "the publishers pay the rest." Few booksellers would care to give away the list of their customers in this fashion. Publishers are to be charged one cent a line for entries and two cents a line for headings, with rebates dependent upon the receipts from booksellers. Orders from booksellers are invited "through any New York City publisher, who will thus practically guarantee our good faith and the performance of what we agree to do"—an assumption which is hardly to be taken for granted. The specimen pages of the Bulletin have rather a crazy-quilt appearance, and include a good deal of slap-dash comment on books, e.g., "The Dickens. All of him, cheap or excellent editions. We don't like him as well as some—but the only time we ever got lost on the R. R. was with our nose in 'Great Expectations.'" Bargain prices are suggested by marks to which there is a key on the last cover page—a complication which will scarcely attract buyers. Two or three of Mr. Alden's special enterprises are largely advertised in page fulminations at "bargain prices." On the whole, we fear the proposed booksellers' aid will scarcely reach the alluring quarter or half million of the imaginative prospectus.

THE PUBLISHERS' INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION.

As a result of the International Publishers' Congress, of which the fifth was held at Milan in 1906, a Publishers' International Commission has been organized, of which the third session was held at the Hotel des Boulangers at Berne on May 24. The commission consists of representatives and leading publishers from several countries, and there were present at the session MM. Ricordi, president, Brockhaus, Heinemann, Hetzel, Morel, Bailly-Baillière, Belinfante, Bonnier, Huber and Ranschburg, while MM. Bruylant, Fourret, Müller and Nygaard sent their excuses. The first business was the consideration of matters on which votes were made at the Milan Congress. In respect to the copyright relations of mechanical music players there was much interest, and it was decided to consult with Mr. Putnam as to whether an appeal from the commission and from the associations represented in the Congress would be useful. Report was made as to the response from associations represented to the circular of the bureau regarding the international regulation of the right of executing musical works. As to the sale at a discount by societies to their members, Mr. Heinemann stated that the question did not concern the English booktrade, as all discounts except to libraries are prohibited. M. Ranschburg said that sales by societies were of great service in Hungary and did not trouble publishers. M. Brockhaus said that this question was connected with that of the maintenance of the net price; and his proposal that this question should be the subject of a special report at the Madrid Congress was adopted. On most of these points responses from several of the associations to circulars from the central bureau were read, and after discussion of the desirability of sending copies of these responses to the several members, it was decided that the bureau should ask from the several associations an annual résumé of their annual reports, on points concerning the booktrade and publishing, which should be communicated to the other associations.

The question of a technical vocabulary of the booktrade was then taken up, and in view of the undertakings of the Cercle de la Librairie of Paris to prepare such a vocabulary in the French language, the following vote of thanks, adopted by the Executive Committee of the Congress, was adopted also by the commission: "The Executive Committee of the International Congress of Publishers, studying the question whether it might be possible to prepare an international technical dictionary with definitions of the terms and expressions in use in the booktrade, expresses its desire that the Cercle de la Librairie Française should be charged with the preparation of a dictionary in the French language, with definitions of words in use in publishing and the booktrade, which should serve as a foundation for future work by the several associations." MM. Ranschburg and Bonnier wished that the dictionary might include also the Hungarian and Swedish terms, and charged themselves with the necessary preparation. In connection with the thanks of the commission M. Melly was to send to the Cercle copies in German, English, French, and Italian of the work already done in this direction.

A memorandum for the preparation of publishing contracts was discussed, and M. Ricordi announced that M. Melly had already done some work upon this, and that the committee had taken up the question and proposed certain modifications. A copy of the memorandum was to be submitted to each delegate for return after examination and correction, that the Permanent Bureau at Berne might bring the matter before the Executive Committee at its next sitting, in October, 1907. This work will be the subject of a report to the Madrid Congress.

As to professional schools and courses, nothing new came up, but a report from the school at Stockholm was presented. As to American copyright, it was decided to ask Mr. Putnam to make a special report on the new bill to the Madrid Congress, and a statement was submitted from Mr. Heinemann as to the necessary notice in books for American copyright. It was provided that a letter should be sent to the several associations in countries having copyright relations with the United States, pointing out that publications containing material prohibited importation by American laws would be seized in the post and therefore would never reach the Copyright Office at Washington.

The commission then took up the preparations for the Congress which is to meet in Madrid in May, 1908, and M. Bailly-Baillière, the permanent secretary, reported on this subject that he had specially endeavored to interest the Latin-American booktrade which it was hoped would be represented at Madrid. He stated that he had been in communication with the Centro de la Propriété Littéraire at Barcelona, a representative from which would present a report at Madrid relative to the regulations of the Berne Convention and of the subscribing countries, with a view to reforming national legislation into conformity with the Berne Convention. He proposed also a report upon the creation of an international bureau for information as to publishers and booksellers, covering their solvency, legal relations with other branch houses abroad, etc., which project was approved by the commission. Mr. Heinemann stated that such an organization already existed in England and the English colonies. M. Ranschburg proposed a report on the international exchange of books on commission. M. Bailly-Baillière emphasized the necessity of an international understanding as to discounts and on the maintenance of the net price, especially in relation with the Latin-American countries, and it was voted that there should be a report on this subject. A proposal for the foundation of an international repertory of all works entered in the national registries of literary property was discussed, but voted down as impracticable and of questionable practical value. The commission considered it opportune that the question of a legal deposit should be taken up at Madrid with reference to its abolition. The president expressed the thanks of the commission to M. Bailly-Baillière for the numerous and interesting suggestions and for the preparatory work already effected for the sixth Congress, and presented the following schedule of proposed reports at the Madrid Congress:

1. Maintenance of the net price.
2. Memorandum for the preparation of publication contracts.
3. American copyright.
4. The Berne Convention and domestic regulations.
5. International bureaus of information.
6. International exchange of books on commission.
7. Means of facilitating exportation of books.
8. Abolition of the legal deposit and of analogous formalities.

9. Possibly a report presented by a French publisher on the status of work on the technical vocabulary.

M. Ranschburg undertook the work of preparing a report entitled "The Post and the Interests of Publishers." M. Bailly-Baillière with M. Lahure will present at Madrid the report on the lettres missives which he should have presented at Milan. M. Huber presented the project of a report from M. Jullien of Geneva, upon publishers and the competition of government publication, and it was decided that such a report should be made, under the title "What measures should be taken to reserve to the publisher the entire production of a publication and to arrest the present movement for publication by the government, cities, private societies without the concurrence of the publisher?" At the suggestion of M. Brockhaus a report was presented on the means of facilitating exportation and importation of books. M. Brockhaus also asked if there existed practicable means of improvement as to the intermediary booktrade, jobbers, etc., and the secretary undertook to find a reporter on this subject.

It was decided to accept the invitation to hold the Congress of 1910 in Holland. The president presented the project for a catalogue submitted by M. Barbéra, of Florence, to the Permanent Bureau. The Madrid Congress will commence on the 26th of May and terminate on the 30th of May, 1908, and the next session of the International Commission will be held at Madrid on the opening day of the Congress.

TABARD INN LIBRARY.

NEW YORK STATE HISTORIAN.

GOVERNOR HUGHES, on July 15, sent to the Senate for confirmation the nomination of Victor Hugo Paltsits, assistant librarian at Lenox Library, New York City, to succeed Hugh Hastings. The choice is an excellent one, and it is hoped will be confirmed. Mr. Paltsits was born in New York City, July 12, 1867, and received his early education in public and private schools. Later he took the scientific course at Cooper Institute, and received instruction in Latin, Greek, Spanish, French and German in high schools, and Coptic and Egyptian hieroglyphics in Columbia University. He entered the Lenox Library as assistant in the reading room, in 1890, and three years later was made sub-librarian, which title was changed to assistant librarian when the Lenox Library became part of the New York Public Library, Astor, Lenox and Tilden Foundations. Mr. Paltsits is the author and editor of a number of historical and bibliographical works of importance. He edited the "Journal of Captain William Pote, Jr., 1745-1747," "Papers Relating to the Siege of Charleston," 1780, the Rev. John Miller's "New Yorke Considered and Improved," 1695, "Captivity of Captain John Gyles," 1689-1697, etc. He was a member of the editorial staff as bibliographical adviser of the edition of the "Jesus Relations and Allied Documents," brought out under the editorial direction of Dr. R. G. Thwaites, by the Burrows Brothers Company, (1896-1901,) and contributor to a number of historical and bibliographical magazines and journals. His work is noted for independent thought, exact knowledge and careful research, and in every way he is specially fitted to fill a position requiring absolute adherence to facts, patience in research and the ability to decipher and edit historical documents. He is a member of the American Antiquarian Society, the American Anthropological Society, a fellow of the American Ethnological Society, a member of the American Historical Association, of the Bibliographical Society of America and the Maine Historical Society, and president of the New York Library Club.

Hugh Hastings, who resigned his position as State Historian of New York to become tax commissioner of New York City, having been educated in the public schools and the Albany High School, Hastings learned the printer's trade, and on the Commercial Advertiser, of which his father is the editor, rose from reporter to managing editor. He was Albany correspondent of the New York World and the Times. The office of State Historian was created by the Legislature when Levi P. Morton was governor, and Mr. Hastings has held it ever since. From the huge mass of old papers in Albany Mr. Hastings has compiled many volumes, including the ecclesiastical records of the State, the papers of Governors George Clinton and Daniel D. Tompkins, and colonial military records.

WORKS OF ARCHIMEDES FOUND IN CONSTANTINOPLE.

Y. L. HEIBERG, professor of philosophy in the University of Copenhagen, is reported to have discovered on a palimpsest in the Convent of the Holy Grave at Constantinople a copy of some of the works of Archimedes supposed to have been transcribed by a monk in the tenth century. The Turkish authorities gave permission to have a copy made of the manuscript, and this will shortly be published. The discovery is of extraordinary interest as showing that ancient manuscripts do exist in Constantinople, supporting the contention of modern historians that the Turks did not destroy the contents of all the libraries, if indeed they destroyed any library, in Constantinople when Mohammed II. took the city in 1453.

UNROLLING PAPYRI FOR 120 YEARS.

In June, 1750, excavations were begun in the west end of the garden of the "House of the Papyri," writes Ethel Ross Barker in the June Burlington Magazine in an article on "Past Excavations at Herculaneum." In the library were cases in inlaid wood containing lumps of charcoal, many of which were thrown away. Finally characters were noticed on some of them and they were discovered to be papyri. A monk, Father Piazzio, invented a machine for unrolling them, and for 120 years scholars were busy in the work of deciphering and editing. Some of the original rolls opened and unopened exist in the Bodleian Library and in the British Museum.

TO TEST RIGHT TO TRANSFER A SUBSCRIPTION TO BOOKS TO A SECOND PARTY.

ATTORNEY B. F. MADORE, of Bedford, Pa., has issued a foreign attachment against The American Law Book Company of New York City, to recover $115.82, the value of part of a set of the "Cyclopedia of Law and Procedure." This proceeding proposes to determine whether the American Law Book Company has the right to rescind a contract when it is only partially completed, the agreement giving neither party the right to rescind. It appears that some time ago Mr. Madore sold the volumes of "Cyclopedia of Law and Procedure" which he had already received, and the remainder of the books were to be shipped to the purchaser as fast as they were received from the American Law Book Company. Having learned of the sale of the books by Mr. Madore, the American Law Book Company refuses to send him any other volumes under the contract.

HOW FIVE AND TEN-CENT PUBLICATIONS PAY.

In a suit brought by George Gordon Hastings, as temporary administrator of the estate of his wife, Rosalie Tousey Hastings, who died last December, for the inspection of the books and accounts of the publishing corporation known as Frank Tousey, at 24 Union Square, New York City, established by Frank Tousey some twenty years ago, Hastings claimed that since its incorporation the company has made not less than $100,000 a year in profits. Sinclair Tousey, the manager of the company, it is alleged as president of the corporation received a salary of $30,000 a year, and Mrs. Hastings as vice-president drew a like amount annually. Hastings also submitted to the court a statement showing that at the end of November, 1906, his wife's receipts from the publishing house had been $182,418. Mrs. Hastings is the widow of Frank Tousey, who died in 1902, leaving practically everything to his wife, the present Mrs. Hastings.

OBITUARY NOTES.

GUSTAVE SCHIRMER, secretary of the music publishing firm of G. Schirmer and manager of the Boston branch of the business known as the Boston Music Company, died on July 15, in Boston. He was the second son of the founder of the firm, G. Schirmer, who came to this country as a boy and bought out the music house of Kerkeigh & Breusing in 1866. His elder son, Rudolph E., became on his death the president of the company, and his younger son, Gustave, was made secretary.

THE REV. WILLIAM KIRKUS, for some years editor of the Baltimore American Literary Churchman, and author of works on "Orthodoxy, Scripture and Reason," "Religion, a Revelation and Rule of Life," etc., died on July 10, at Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Kirkus was born in Hull, Eng., in 1830, and after graduating from the University of London, became a Congregational minister. Later he went over to the Church of England, and coming to the United States became assistant to Bishop Potter, who was then rector of Grace Church in New York City. He went to Baltimore some years ago to build up the church of St. Michael and All Angels. In 1892 he resigned as rector to devote his time to literary work.

PROFESSOR ANGELO HEILPRIN, of Philadelphia, naturalist and explorer, died on July 17, at the home of his sister in New York City. Professor Heilprin was born March 31, 1853, at Sátoralja-Ujhely in Hungary, and came to this country when three years old. He took up the study of natural science, and gave his attention particularly to palaeontology and geology. His first academic appointment was as professor in these subjects at the Academy of Natural Science, Philadelphia, which he held from 1880 to 1900. In June, 1891, he headed a party of scientists, who accompanied Lieutenant Peary and his bride on their expedition to the ice fields of Greenland, and went as far north as latitude 77 degrees, 43 minutes, to the winter quarters of the explorer at McCormick Bay. Professor Heilprin's object was entirely scientific. Another of Professor Heilprin's expeditions, which proved his devotion to the call of science, was his ascent of Mount Pelée while it was still in eruption after the destruction of St. Pierre. He ascended the mountain until his life was in great danger. Streams of lava, cinders and clouds of steam were threatening to engulf him; but he completed the observations, which are recorded in his work, "Mount Pelée and the Tragedy of Martinique." He had already in 1890 investigated the volcanoes of Central America, and had made the ascent and taken measurements of Mounts Orizabo, Popocatepetl, Itacituitl, Toluca and Jorullo. By this expedition he proved that Orizabo is the highest peak in Mexico and overtops Popocatepetl by 700 feet. Other parts of the globe he visited were Morocco and the Atlas Mountains in 1896, where he was disappointed at finding no traces of glaciers, and the Klondike and Alaska in 1898 and 1899. Besides the books mentioned Professor Heilprin wrote about a dozen others. He was a frequent contributor to scientific journals and to the magazines.

THE Italian Minister of Public Instruction has offered to Ouida, (Louise de la Ramè), any acceptable help. She, however, is not willing to accept charity and has already returned the donations of English sympathizers.

RODIN's bust of the late William Ernest Henley, author and editor, who died four years ago this month, was unveiled in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, on July 11. A striking eulogy by George Meredith was read by Lord Plymouth.

POST-CARD NOTES.

THE United States Board of General Appraisers has decided that post-cards manufactured abroad on which feathers have been used for ornate purposes, must pay a duty of 50 per cent. ad valorem as a manufacture of feathers, rather than printed matter.

THE AMERICAN NEWS COMPANY has marketed a line of "Birthday" post-cards. The subjects are assorted flowers, children, landscapes and marine views. They all have delicately tinted backgrounds with edges of a contrasting color which give a very artistic effect. A trial order of 100 assorted cards is $1.25.

WITH reference to the probable continuance of the post-card craze, A. S. Merrill, one of the largest dealers in post-cards in Toronto, Canada, recently said to a representative of the Bookseller and Stationer of Canada: "I should hardly call it any longer a craze. Picture post-cards are now a staple commodity. Before forming this opinion, which I feel sure is a correct one, I travelled ten thousand miles visiting cities in the United States, in 1905 and 1906, and I covered about as many miles in Europe. In Paris, Berlin and London particularly, I observed that the picture post-card was firmly established; and on the main streets of those cities, about every tenth store carried post-cards, while some firms have been for a long time, and are now, selling nothing but post-cards. I feel sure that so long as pictures are sold at all, they will sell best in the form of picture post-cards."

POSTMASTER-GENERAL MEYER has promulgated an order, effective August 1, 1907, providing that the face side of a postal card may be divided by a vertical line placed approximately one-third of the distance from the left end of the card; the space to the left of the line to be used for a message, etc., the portion to the right to be used for the address only. A very thin sheet of paper may be attached if it completely adheres to the card, and such a paper may bear both writing and printing. Advertisements, illustrations or writing may appear on the back of the card and on the left third of the front. Postal cards bearing particles of glass, metal, mica, sand, tinsel, or other such substances, are declared to be unmailable, except when enclosed in envelopes with proper postage affixed, or when treated in such a manner as will prevent the objectionable materials from being rubbed off or injuring the hands of persons handling the mails.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE CENTURY COMPANY will publish in book form this fall David Homer Bates's memories of "Lincoln in the Telegraph Office." Mr. Bates was manager of the War Department Telegraph Office and cipher-operator from 1861 to 1866.

THROUGH the printer's error the price of Bradford's "Bibliographer's Manual of American History" was given incorrectly as $3 the volume in the advertisement of Stan V. Henkels & Co., in the issue of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY for July 13. The trade is requested to note that the price is $3.50 net the volume, and that subscriptions will be taken only for the full set of five volumes.

WE are pleased to notice that the recent birthday honors include a baronetcy for Walter Scott, of the Walter Scott Publishing Company, which has done much to popularize good books; and knighthoods for Principal Donaldson, of St. Andrews, W. S. Gilbert, Professor J. K. Loughton, and Professor John Rhys, who have all in different ways made notable contributions to scholarship or letters.

THE MOODY CORPORATION, 35 Nassau Street, New York City, have just issued a work of interest to the banking and investing community, entitled "American Railways as Investments," by Carl Snyder. It presents an exhaustive analysis of nearly one hundred of the leading companies of the United States and Canada, reviewing their history, capitalization, character and stability of traffic, standard of maintenance, surplus earnings, etc.

W. A. BUTTERFIELD, 59 Bromfield Street, Boston, Mass., has published a facsimile of the scarce Pelham Map of Boston and Environs, of the original of which only seven copies are known. The map shows the exact position of the British and American troops, Washington's headquarters at Cambridge and General Putnam's line of communications as well as the road that Earl Percy's troops took to Lexington. Paul Revere's ride is distinctly outlined as far as Medford; also, Colonel Dawes' ride through Roxbury and Brookline. The position of the houses of prominent people of that time are also indicated.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY will publish in the fall F. Marion Crawford's new story, "Arethusa," the scene of which is laid in Constantinople and Venice in the fifteenth century; "Love of Life," a collection of short stories by Jack London; "The Gulf," a new novel by John Luther Long, author of "The Way of the Gods," etc.; the first English edition of Alexandre Dumas's autobiography—"My Memoirs"—prepared from the autograph manuscripts of the author by E. M. Waller; "New Creations in Plant Life," by W. S. Harwood, author of "The New Earth;" also, "Tales of the Months," a series of thirteen short stories, the number corresponding with the thirteen months of the Indian calendar, by Mabel Osgood Wright.

FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY have in preparation a work on the present conditions in South America, entitled "The Continent of Opportunity." The author, Francis E. Clark, widely known as the founder and president of the Christian Endeavor Society, has just completed a thorough-going tour of examination of the political, economic and religious conditions of the continent. He gives a brief history of eleven separate republics so different that they cannot be treated as a whole, and impressions gained from audiences with the presidents of most of them. They also announce a book entitled "Poland, the Knight Among Nations," by Louis E. Van Norman, staff editor of The American Review of Reviews. With description, legend and history and a traveller's impressions, the author has prepared a book of unusual interest and information. The introduction is by Helena Modjeska, the well-known actress.

FOR the next two weeks there will be exhibited at Tiffany's, in New York City, one of the handsomest volumes ever made in the United States. It is volume one of "The Catholic Encyclopedia," Vatican edition, the copy which is to be presented to His Holiness Pius x., and is a splendid example of American bookmaking and binding. It is one of the limited edition of twenty-six sets, lettered according to the alphabet. The text is printed throughout upon Imperial Japan paper, manufactured especially for this work; the illustrations consist of 30 photogravures in color of paintings and manuscripts; 100 photogravures in tint on India paper, and 45 color typogravures all printed by Goupil & Company, of Paris, together with 2000 full-page and text illustrations. Each copy of this edition bears the autograph of the Pope on the title-page. In the set to be presented to His Holiness will appear the names of all of the subscribers to the Vatican edition. The binding is a work of art in itself, being elaborated in full vellum, with a special design stamped in gold and inlaid with morocco in various colors. A photogravure in color is inlaid on the doublé of the front cover. A different picture will consequently appear on the doublé of each of the 15 volumes. The fly-leaf is of watered silk, while the Papal coat-of-arms is hand-painted on the half-title. The half title and full title in each volume is hand illuminated in color. The work is to be completed in fifteen volumes, and it is stated that no publisher has ever issued a work of reference in a garb so distinctive. The publishers are Robert Appleton Company, New York.

THE SAALFIELD PUBLISHING COMPANY'S announcements for the fall include the following books for boys: "Little Rhody," by Jean K. Bird, describing a year at a boy's school; "Bigelow Boys," by Mrs. A. F. Ransom, giving the adventures of three boys who proved themselves heroes in a street car strike; also, "The Traif of the Seneca," by James Braden, the story of the adventures of two sturdy lads who brave the dangers of the wilderness to make their fortunes. For girls they have "Betty, the Scribe," by Lilian Turner; "The Honor Girl," and "Elizabeth Hobart at Exeter Hall," both by Jean K. Baird. All these books will be fully illustrated. Among their other juveniles are "In Shadow Town," by Leigh Gross Day, a lap-book of verse, with illustrations from photographs; "The Teddy Bears," by Adah Louise Sutton, with illustrations in colors; "Billy Whisker's Travels," by F. G. Wheeler, with illustrations in colors; "Baby Dear," a record book for baby's first year, compiled by Adah Louise Sutton, with illustrations and decorations by Katherine Hayward Greenland; "The Little Green Goblin," by James Ball Naylor, a wonder-tale for discontented boys and girls, with illustrations in color; also, "Kindergarten Gems," a collection of short stories and poems for children just learning to read. Two comics announced by this firm are "The Newlyweds and Their Baby," by George McManus, thirty-two pages in color, full of fun, and "The Outbursts of Everett True," by A. D. Condo and J. W. Raper. Their "novelties" are "A Visit to the Zoo" and "Hello, Hello, Bostock," lap-books in which the illustrations can be extended and the animals made to perform wonderful feats; also, "The Little Runaways, Topsy and Tootsy," jingling verses and bright pictures.

BUSY BOOKSELLERS, Attention!

Your best help toward that happy, "busy" condition is now ready, and you can have sample copy and full particulars on request—a sixty-eight large-page, large-type Bulletin of "Best-selling Current Literature," the latest issues and most popular books of leading publishers—3630 catalogue lines, an up-to-date, "live" book store in itself.

This Bulletin is going to be mailed to your customers.

It will go with your imprint, or with the imprint of some other book dealer—whichever you choose to say—if you will kindly say quickly!

With your own exclusive imprint, the cost to you will be only half-a-cent a copy—a small fraction of the real cost—the publishers pay the balance.

To any local bookseller who will thoroughly cover a given territory, exclusive use of the Bulletin will be given—prompt recognition and consideration of the matter is therefore of special importance: the live bookseller, rather than the one with the "deep pocket" is the one we are looking for.

The cost of mailing is one cent each (a full cent's worth), or $10.00 per 1,000, or a total cost to you of $15.00 per 1,000.

Or, if you prefer to do so, you can send us the names of your customers, and we will mail direct, with your exclusive imprint (nothing else will go) and pay half the postage, making the net cost to you only $10.00, instead of $15.00, per 1,000; the publishers will pay the balance of the expense.

You can either send your orders direct to us, or through any New York City publisher, who will thus practically, guarantee our good faith and the performance of what we agree to do.

Our plans are altogether unique, and most important in the interest of the Publisher, the Bookseller and the Book Buyer—not a whit in collision with either interest.

Note that publishers pay the greater portion of the expense of circulating the Bulletin, and evidently they are greatly interested to eliminate duplication and waste. Both these ends are facilitated by "exclusive" local editions and by the direct mailing from N. Y. City, our nation-wide Book Buyer's directory making possible the checking of names, and throwing out of duplicates, or of those "not-worth-while."

You should certainly put a copy of the Bulletin with your imprint on it into the hands of every customer—or every possible customer, you have—as soon as possible; after doing that you will send subsequent issues in less quantity; according to circumstances and the merits of each case.

It is not supposed that you will want Bulletins in big quantities before September or October, but it is quite essential, for you, and for us, that we get to an understanding with you, as promptly as possible.

Address, and "talk business," definitely as practicable.

THE LONE STAR

By EUGENE P. LYLE, JR.

Author of "The Missourian"

Will be for sale throughout the country—August 15th

It is a high class tale of romantic adventure. It stirs the blood irresistibly, this dramatic story; and the reader understands for the first time what kind of men Houston and Crockett and Bowie and their companions really were, and what the Alamo tragedy meant.

It is an epic of the Southwest—the Iliad of Texas—which will appeal strongly to every American.

Promote Your School Book Business

Booksellers can add to the volume of their business materially by developing carefully the sale of school books in their territory. While the margin of profit appears to be small it must be kept in mind that many schools, especially private schools, colleges and universities, order in quantities; the sale-season, though short, is "snappy" and there is a minimum of danger only in accumulating "dead" stock. When you make a customer for school books, be he the school principal or the pupil, you have a customer for other supplies as well and very often you form business friendships with "book-lovers" of the future.

To aid the bookseller in this branch of his business, we publish yearly an up-to-date "Educational List" containing the titles of current school books and their prices, together with a classified index of subjects. This catalogue we supply at a very low rate in quantities with the dealer's own imprint on front page—cheap enough to warrant any bookseller distributing it freely among all the educational institutions in his territory.

"The book will interest all who are concerned in the social and economic problems that are pressing for solution."—Buffalo Express.

"The book cites numerous instances of success due to economic and industrial training, and vigorously defends the negro of the South from the railing accusations of the prejudiced white men. It is a strong case excellently presented."—Phila. North American.

"Know the World You Live Upon and Read About Every Day"

WE wish to announce to the book trade we have just produced the greatest popular educational work of the last century, the INTERNATIONAL FLAT-GLOBE and INTERNATIONAL GEOGRAPHICAL HISTORY OF THE WORLD, edited by ROBERT E. PEARY, the noted Arctic explorer, for two years President American Geographical Society, and Commander in the United States Navy.

It is sold at a popular price, and is meeting with a heavy, broad, general sale. It duplicates in a superior and more convenient form an old style globe of the world, that sells for $250.00. The retail price of this work is $5.00, in dozen and half dozen lots $3.00 per set wholesale. You will find a big sale for this Globe and History rightly presented.

Man is a continuous student, and must have a Geography Globe to-day to intelligently read newspapers, current events and history. These tell you what is happening everywhere, the Globe shows you where it is happening, and the History tells you about the place and people. Maps, atlases, charts, geography books and encyclopedia maps are fragmentary, disconnected and disproportioned.

The Flat-Globe is the New Twentieth Century method of making a Globe. It pictures the world at a glance, and is handsomely printed in seven colors upon one reversible disk 28 inches in diameter. Latitude, longitude, and the whole earth's surface are connected entirely around it as in the old-fashioned ball-globe. It is light and convenient. It can be hung flat against the wall, and is a handsome ornament. It can also be used upon a table or desk, and at night under a light. It is the most satisfactory and beautiful Globe ever produced.

The International Flat-Globe and International Geographical History together form a new and splendid system of geographical comparison, review and reference, that has never existed before. Each is necessary to the intelligent and satisfactory use of the other. The Globe illustrates the entire earth's surface, the Geographical History explains and describes the earth's physical geography, phenomena and forces of nature; mathematical geography and its interesting data; national and political geography of continents, nations, and their dependencies.

They give a complete understanding of world-wide geography that is both scholarly and commercial. They should be in every home and place of business, as well as schools, libraries and offices.

Send your order to day. You will have a steady, regular sale of them, a big school trade, and also a large output as a holiday present.

NOTES IN SEASON.

DODD, MEAD & Co. call attention to the fact that "The Stooping Lady," inadvertently announced by us last week as by Eden Phillpotts, is by Maurice Hewlett, and is the first long novel which he has written in two years. It will be ready in the fall. "The Mother of Man," by Eden Phillpotts, will not appear in book form until next year.

LONGMANS, GREEN & Co. will publish shortly "Grant, Lincoln, and the Freedmen," a volume of Civil War reminiscences by Dr. John Eaton. It will include a history of "The Work for the Contrabands and Freedmen of the Mississippi Valley from 1862 to 1865." The author, who writes in collaboration with Ethel Osgood Mason, was at one time General Superintendent of Freedmen in the Department of Tennessee.

A. M. ROBERTSON, San Francisco, Cal., has just ready a volume of "Selected Poems," by Dr. Edward Robeson Taylor, who has just been chosen mayor of San Francisco, Cal., made up of selections from the author's "Visions, and Other Verse" and "Into the Light, and Other Verse," the stock of which was destroyed in the great fire, to which are added a number of items never before printed; "Through Painted Panes, and Other Poems," by Louis Alexander Robertson; also, "Joe Tilden's Recipes for Epicures," the author of which—the late Major Joseph Tilden—was one of the most famous bohemians and epicureans of the Pacific Coast. These volumes are attractively printed and bound.

FREDERICK A. STOKES COMPANY have in preparation a new book by Gelett Burgess, entitled "The Maxims of Methuselah." This book purports to be the advice given by the patriarch to his great-grandson, Shem, in regard to women. They have also under way "The Conquest of Cancer," by C. W. Saleeby, in which Dr. Saleeby replies to the criticism of the "pancreatic" treatment by some of the medical journals; "Biology and Progress," also by Dr. Saleeby; a new book by Harold Bindloss, called "Winston of the Prairie," a story built upon an exchange of identity by two men, and containing some striking situations; also, "Our Babies," by Paul Helleu, a book of studies in motherhood and child life, is being imported by this company.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have just brought out a work on "Psychology," by Dr. Charles Hubbard Judd, Professor of Psychology and Director of the Psychological Laboratory at Yale University. The present work is the first volume of a series of text-books designed to introduce the student to the methods and principles of scientific psychology, and aims to develop a functional view of mental life. The volume is amply illustrated. They have also just ready "The Art of Composition," for high schools and academies, by William Schuyler, assistant principal of the William McKinley High School at St. Louis, Mo., and Philo. M. Buck, Jr., of the same institution. The volume treats of composition in general, of the forms of composition, of the materials of composition, and of criticism, and in an appendix gives forms of letter writing, versification and capital letters and punctuation.

THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY American Educational List, 1907

This List plans to include all textbooks used in American schools and academic institutions (not in universities, professional or technical schools) and books prepared especially for supplementary reading in primary and grammar schools; also classical and foreign texts, annotated for schools, officially recommended for school use, and such English texts as are required for college entrance examinations, 1906-11. Entries are under authors or editors; classical texts are entered under editor's name, foreign and English texts under author's name, with editor's name in parenthesis. For revised subject classification, and for collective reference to classical authors entered under editors, see the second part of this List, following the main alphabet. The List does not include other English texts (except comprehensive school editions of Shakespeare); works of reference for schools (except dictionaries); nor teachers' aids (except teachers' manuals forming part of a textbook series). It is also intended to exclude imported textbooks, except such as are printed with American imprint or sold here in class quantities.

The List omits works out of print or superseded by newer editions, or works obsolete in the sense of being no longer sold in quantities for class introduction, but only in individual copies to schools having the book already in use. For such works see the American Educational List of previous years.

The price given is the "net" or introduction price made by the publisher (with close trade discount only), for which a copy is sent to a teacher postpaid. Where an additional mailing charge is made for postage on single copies, an asterisk (*) precedes the price. Books priced at retail, with regular trade discount, are designated by a dagger (†) in the price column. When there is a blank in price column the publisher failed to give information. A double asterisk (**) designates books forthcoming and yet unpriced. New books issued since the List of 1906 are designated by a single asterisk (*) before title.

Be particular in ordering to specify edition, and to give the full name of the book as entered in this List.
